

Kashmkash

Zindagi Ke paas jaaun
Ya maut ko gale lagaau
Kashmkash mein hun
Sawal hi sawal hain
aur Jawaab maalum nahi
Unhe dhoonu ya bhool jaaun
kashmkash mein hun
Hua tha maut se saamna aur
Zindagi ne bhi pukara tha
Tab bhi kashmkash thi
Aur aaj bhi kashmkash mein hun
Zindagi se pyaar bahut tha
Par usne kaante diye
Maut kaun sa bistar lagaayegi
Kashmkash mein hun
Mushqile bahut hain aaj
kaanto Si uljhane hai
Kal kaun sa daur aayega
Kashmkash mein hun
Sanwar jaayega kal
nikhar jaayenge sapne
Aur Banega fir se ik aashiyaan
Bas isi kashmkash mein hun

IN LIFE I COULD NOT ACHIEVE ANYTHING

The world was cloaked with darkness,
I came with brightness,
I spent my life burning could not make
the world shining,
In life i could not achieve anything!
Had i ceased my own fire,
Patience i could acquire,
The sea of honey with waves full,
My cup i could not fill,
In life i could not achieve anything.

Apply ice cubes before you apply any type of make up. Massage with tea tree oil or red wine. Leave for few minutes. Take a spray bottle ,add one teaspoon red wine and fill it with chilled water. Spray on your face. These simple techniques will help to set your make up. Always apply good quality make up. You should avoid heavy cream based foundation and other cake type make up products in summers. Mineral make up and light foundations like souffle and mousse are good for summer season. Use powder to cream foundations or bb creams for make up in reception and other functions. Powder based eyeshadows, smudge proof kohl and blush ons will stop smudging your make up. Use matte finish lipsticks and avoid glossy make up. Sweat and heat can spoil your make up. It's better to keep your hair do and drapes simple. Wear light and elegant jewellery. Drink as much water as you can. Do not forget to remove make up after every function with a good make up remover. This will help to maintain your skin. Use mild perfumes and enjoy each function with your family. Applying these simple techniques can help you to look best in weddings.

By the way : Dowry is death of humanity

Hritu Sodhi

When some of us are busy socialising or living life, young girls are dying in many parts of our country. Dowry is a social evil which is not being defeated by us till now and it is increasing day by day. It's changing face is more dangerous.

Swapna is getting married this year. She is average looking and educated girl of a small town. She got attracted towards a boy, sanjay, who is not of her caste. Now her parents are ready to accept Sanjay but boy's parents are dead against this marriage. Their non acceptance and rejection have two main reasons. One is caste and another reason is that she can't fulfill their demands of dowry.

Now her father has no choice. He has applied loan to give dowry to Swapna's in laws. Even Swapna has not stopped her father from taking this loan. She believes that only dowry can save relations and she will be accepted in Sanjay's home.

Her father is 50 years old and suffering from many diseases. His survival depends on the money which he has saved for old age.

Irony is that he has two other daughters and their education will be effected poorly if he takes this step and give everything to his eldest daughter.

Now tell me who is on fault?

System, Swapna or her father?

This social system is totally wrong. Female and males are born in same way. Families spend money on their education equally. But in 21st century we are failed to give equal social status to females.

Dowry is demanded by male's family and every time a girl is humiliated this way.

Girl's parents always feel inferior to boy's parents.

They spend money to secure their daughter's future.

Educated boys and girls donot protest against this social evil, rather they feel happy to boast off in front of their friends and society.

Sumaira is well educated and earning good salary. But her middle class father is worried about dowry which he has to give to her in laws.

Sumaira is not in favor of simple wedding. She has attended weddings of her rich friends in past few years. Her mind is not accepting the fact that her father's position will be affected.

How can someone be so insensitive towards her parents?

Its time to change our mindsets. Marriages are made to tie knots between husband and wife. They start their new life. But it should not be on your parents shoulders.

Education and awareness can solve this problem. Girls should avoid big fat weddings. Always think about your parents future. Its your duty. Why should they spend lacs and crores on only one day just to show to the society?

Males should be strong enough to refuse taking dowry. They should not accept expensive gifts from girls families. Its not a matter of pride to be born as a boy. One will be called Mard only when he understand others problems.

I am a mother of two sons and I am totally against this system. I have taken a vow not to take a single penny from my daughter in laws families. My duty is to give good education and sacraments to my sons. They are capable of doing everything on their own. I request all readers to understand this and avoid taking dowry. By the way dowry is real death of our souls. Death of humanity is the biggest defeat of mankind. Have you seen any animal who takes dowry? They are called animals and we have everything but greed to earn more money has made us monsters. Take a step forward and let the parents of a girl live with pride. Thousands of female lives will be saved this way and humanity will survive for longer period.

Save our planet, Save the mother Earth

First event:

The very first event for earth day was held in America nearly five decades ago. It was founded by former US senator Gaylord Nelson, after he saw the enormous 1969 oil spill in Santa Barbara, California.

Flag and Anthems:

The day has its own flag, which was created by US peace activist John McConnell and it features a picture of world on it. The day has its own anthems; one of which is performed to the tune of Beethoven's ode to joy. It's about protecting our earth. In 1990, the event went global, with 200 million people in 141 countries celebrating it.

How should we celebrate: Every person should think of protecting mother earth in a unique way.

Here are few suggestions :

We can grow our own organic food or we can buy locally grown product. We should go paperless to save trees. We must plant at least one tree. We should stop drinking bottled water. We must stop smoking to save environment from smoke and pollution. We should start car pooling to avoid access traffic on roads which increases pollution level. Cycling is another good option. Japanese people prefer cycling and are more environmental friendly. We must take a vow on this day to save electricity, water, petrol and every essential and precious things available on our planet. Every Udaipurite should come forward and try to save our city and participate in this event by doing any good cause.
