

Focus on Patent Filing, Publications

Udaipur: A two day workshop on Patent Filing, Drafting and Processing at CTAE was inaugurated at college premises. Sanjay Singhal, Secure Meters' was present as Chief Guest in event, he said in his opening address that the success of a Patent filing depends more on the draft of the filing rather than anything else.

He further added that there have been continuous inventions in the various R&D labs across the country under the management of Government or private entities. However, the focus in our case is more on the publication of the research rather than on Patent filing of the findings.

He also said that it is important to commercialise the process of Patent Filing, saying that most Patent Attorneys from the general Law sector, thereby not being able to comprehend the importance or relevance behind the inventions.

Professor Uma Shankar Sharma, VC of MPUAT thanked the participants and in his address said that the topic being discussed in the workshop was of utmost relevance to the technical professionals more than anybody else. He said that Patent is the right of an inventor and all engineers and scientists at MPUAT must ensure that their work is recognized through patent filing. He further added that the successful patent filing is dependent on a reasonable offer as well as its technical feasibility.

The assistance of various agencies and consultants is preferred so as to understand the various aspects of Intellectual Property Rights. Executive Dean CTAE, Prof. BP Nandwana, in his welcome address, introduced the participants to the developments and achievements of CTAE in past years. Organizing Secretary DR. SM Mathur explained about the importance of Patent and elaborated on the various difficulties that are encountered while filing patents. He added that the participation of around 110 persons from across the country in this workshop will be helpful to research and development activities.

Participants in the workshop included officers from the Patent Department, DSER Scientists, Eminent Scientists from IIT-BHU, who spoke at length on Patent related issues. Two inventors from CTAE Innovation Centre were awarded on the occasion. Omprakash Beniwal was presented an award for designing a machine that is capable of segregated various components of Blood, while Neha was awarded for the design of an eco-friendly urinal. Both scientists have been awarded earlier for these inventions during an exhibition in Bengaluru.

Chittorgarh admin develops Humsafar

Jaipur: Chittorgarh district administration has come up with a road safety mobile application for immediate assistance - Humsafar - during emergency situation such as accidents.

The application had been appreciated during the recent road safety meeting of state transport ministers held at Vishakhapatnam.

Humsafar app will send GPS coordinates to emergency contacts and government with an integrated interface for response in the golden hour during accidents. Golden hour refers to a time period lasting for one hour, or less, following injury being sustained by a persons during which there is the highest likelihood that prompt medical treatment will prevent death. According to National Crime Records Bureau (NCRB) 2015 report, 141,526 persons were killed and 477,731 injured in road accidents in India in 2014.

The brain behind the app, Chittorgarh district collector Inderjeet Singh said the application will report issues, send category of grievance, description and GPS coordinates, asses real location and sensitive traffic alerts that are integrated with navigation. "We are aligned with the Brasilia Declaration's mission of reducing deaths due to road accidents by 50% by 2020 and making a strong technology intervention in achieving the same," said the collector. The application is completed and all set to operate.

MSME Conclave On The Second Day Of India Industrial Fair

Vishwakarma Jayanti to be celebrated As Rajasthan MSME day every year - CM

Jaipur: Chief Minister Smt. Vasundhara Raje has said that Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises are in the top priority of the state government and a separate policy for MSMEs has formed to serve the purpose. She announced that every year Vishwakarma Jayanti shall be celebrated as Rajasthan MSME Day in the state and Rajasthan Udyog Ratna shall be given away on this day. Smt. Raje was addressing the opening ceremony of the MSME Conclave on the second day of the four day India Industrial Fair held at Jaipur Exhibition and Convention Center (JECC) at Sitapura. She said due to the efforts made by the state government Rajasthan has reached on second position from the sixth in Ease of Doing Business ranking. She asked Banking sector to keep separate provision of fund to promote small industries. She appealed to the small entrepreneurs to develop their small enterprise as a medium enterprise. Entrepreneurs should work with zero negativity-plus productivity and contribute for the growth of our economy, she said. The Chief Minister said besides setting up of small industries better marketing of products is necessary. Industrial Exhibition, Urban and Rural Haats are being organised to promote the selling of these products, she said. The state government has started new initiative 'Boost Your Business' along with Facebook. Weavers and Artisans are being promoted through this initiative, she said. After Alwar, Bhilwara and Jodhpur district this programme will be taken up in other districts also, she added. Smt. Raje expressed her gratitude towards Union Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Minister Shri Kalraj Mishra for the sanctioning of Tool Room worth Rs. 100 crores in Bhiwadi. The Union Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Minister had all praise for the Chief Minister for her stint as the Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises Minister of the country. She worked with far-sightedness and positive results of her work are visible, he said. The Union Minister also appreciated efforts made in Rajasthan to promote industrial cluster. Union Minister of State for Finance Shri Arjun Ram Meghwal assured that there will be categories in GST so that small and medium enterprises should not bear the burden. Union Minister Shri Kalraj Mishra and Chief Minister Smt. Vasundhara Raje gave away Best Start Up Awards during the function. Udaipur passport office to be functional by February : Mulay

Udaipur: People of South Rajasthan would soon be relieved of traveling to Jodhpur or Jaipur for getting issued a passport. " Udaipur may get its passport office soon. It may be functional by February next year" D.M.Mulay, the additional secretary (Consular, Passport, Visa and Overseas Indian Affairs) announced before a gathering here on Saturday.

Mulay inaugurated a two-day passport camp at this juncture he appreciated the efforts of the public representatives of Udaipur for their consistent efforts to get allocated a passport seva kendra here. Presently, besides the regional passport office at Jaipur, there are only two passport seva kendra at Jodhpur and Sikar. People from Udaipur, Rajsamand, Banswara, Dungarpur, Chittorgarh and Pratapgarh have to travel to Jodhpur or Jaipur for document and physical verification after submitting an application online. " Looking at the enthusiasm of people gathered at the camp for issuance of passport, we are sure the new passport office after coming into operation in Udaipur would serve and benefit thousands of people" Mulay said. The consular said that the number of passport applications in India has increased substantially in recent times, however the time taken for police verification and issuance of the document has reduced considerably, thus relieving people from the long wait to get passports for foreign travel. In 2014, India had become the third country after US and China to have issued more than 10 million passports. He attributed the success to technology and Passport seva camps to outreach large number of people and providing the passport service at people's doorsteps.

Mulay also said that though the time taken for police verification is the state matter, yet, MEA maintains a regular dialogue with the state governments to ease the process for public convenience.

Mulay also presided over a meeting with the district administration to review the progress of the documentation of the proposed passport office and its building here.

Collector Rohit Gupta, Mayor Chandra Singh Kothari, Commissioner municipal corporation Siddharth Sihag and others shared progress details.

Chahak campaign to help poor students

Udaipur: Udaipur District Administration launched the 'Chahak' campaign to help poor schooling students with essential items. The campaign's slogan will be 'Anupgyo ko Upyogyo Banara Jaruratmand Tak Pahunchana' (underprivileged should be given privileges), Rajasthan Co-operative minister Ajay Singh Kilak said today. He said the district administration along with Udaipur sahkari up bhokta bhandar Limited will run the campaign. "A counter has been opened in Udaipur, where people can donate lunch boxes, water bottles, geometry boxes, registers, school bags and toys," Kilak said, adding more counters will be opened in the future. "These items will be distributed to the needy students in government school," he said.

Udaipur District Collector Rohit Gupta said a donor will receive an SMS when an item is delivered to a student.

Storytellers lap up Udaipur-born author's book

Jaipur: For author Arefa Tehsin, who grew up in the jungles of southern Rajasthan, it is an honour that stories from her book 'The Elephant Bird' are read out in more than 3,000 storytelling sessions across the country through this week. On Thursday, the session will be held at the Pranab Mukherjee Public Library in President's Estate at 4.45pm, said Manisha Chaudhry, head of content development, Pratham Books. Professional storyteller Rituparna Ghosh will conduct the session at Rashtrapati Bhawan. Pratham Books, established in 2004 with the mission to see a book in every child's hand, runs a campaign every year on International Literacy Day (September 10) called 'One Day, One Story', giving storytellers an opportunity to connect with children in their neighbourhood and share the beauty of storytelling in their native language. This year, Tehsin's book was selected for the campaign. "The book is about a magical bird and a brave and curious child. It is based in a village called Adhaniya, inspired by a village of the same name in southern Rajasthan. I heard about it from my naturalist father Dr Raza H Tehsin," said Tehsin on telephone from Sri Lanka where she's working on a novel series. More than 3,000 storytellers are registered to conduct around 3,200 storytelling sessions as part of the campaign. In Rajasthan, sessions have been held in Jaipur, Nal, Jaisalmer, Bichhiwada (Dungarpur), Ajmer, Bhilwara and in many villages. "Our aim is to have a cohort of volunteers whose interest can be sparked through these sessions, enabling them to become long-term champions of reading," said Maya Hemant Krishna, community and outreach manager, Pratham Books. Pratham Books reaches around 50 million children and the 'One Story, One Day' campaign is in Limca Book of Records for hosting the largest number of volunteer driven reading sessions on a single day. "This annual celebration of reading has transformed into a reading movement that connects volunteers to the children who have less or no access to books or storytelling," Krishna said.

Life Term For Raping Student

Jaipur: A government school teacher was on Thursday convicted and awarded life sentence for raping a student over two months and forcing her to abort at Asind in Bhilwara district. In September 2013, Bhuvaneshwar Singh Tomar, teacher of a secondary school, had threatened to fail the 16-year-old girl in an examination and raped her five times. Tomar is the son of the director of the private school where the girl studied.

When the girl conceived, he forced her to abort her three- to four-month-old foetus with the help of his mother Sunita, wife Uma Devi, aunt Manorama and school staffer Sita Kir.

A complaint was lodged by the girl's father after the foetus was found near the school on December 14, 2013.

Police arrested Tomar under the Protection of Children from Sexual Offences Act (POCSO) and he was tried in a special court. While pronouncing the sentence, special judge (POCSO cases) Ramesh Chandra Meena said Tomar had violated teacher-student relationship and was not entitled to any leniency.

The four women, who helped to abort the child, were also arrested and a trial is pending against them at a women's court.
