ers by 2022, the State Government had initiated several steps to help farmers grow high value added crops. through systematic and aggressive marketing and other farmer-friendly policies. He expressed confidence that these steps would enable the State to over-achieve the target of raising farm incomes. He said that NITI Aayog had ranked Rajasthan the third, after Maharashtra and Gujarat in the area of agricultural reform. The policies adopted by the current State Government would make Rajasthan the leading State soon in this regard.

Ms. Neelkamal Darbari, Principal Secretary, Agriculture, Government of Rajasthan, in her remarks, said that famers were the central figures in GRAM 2016, where the focus will be on innovative farming techniques and high value crops to give farmers the incomes due to them. Rajasthan, she said, had 40,000 villages and the effort was to bring at least one farmer from each village to the mega event so that he could go back and share his experiences with his family, fellow farmers and the entire community. Dr. A. Didar Singh, Secretary General, FICCI, said that GRAM 2016 was the single largest agriculture meet in the country and it has attracted the participation of 50000 formers and over 200 corporates. The objective was to expose the farmers to latest farm technologies and showcase to business the opportunities for investment in the State

40% tax under GST on all tobacco product

even in the new GST system will ensure that the poor continue to be trapped in vicious cycle of poverty and ill health, exacerbated by affordability and addiction which causes them to spend more on tobacco and less on food, healthcare and education. We would urge the central and state governments to tax all forms of tobacco including bidis at 40 percent under GST regime, to insulate the population from its ill effects." "With 85% of smoked tobacco being consumed as Bidis, a large percentage of the 10 lakh tobacco related deaths occur because of bidi use. Therefore. treating bidis under the highest category for sin products to attract maximum tax would not only save the lives of lakhs of poor Indians but would also help reduce the overwhelming health disparities between various strata of society. The government should treat such issues on a priority basis & ensure that there is no distinction made amongst all forms of tobacco and are taxed at highest possible rates so as to keep our most vulnerable populations away from falling percent of the adult population prey to it" "I lost my husband at a overall) - of these at least 10 lakh are dying each year from young age due to tobacco. Rajsamand court order police to book Rakhi Sawant over 'Modi dress'

Udaipur: Rakhi Sawant is in news again after the orders of a local court at Raisamand, a case has been booked against the actress at the Kankroli police station of the district on Thursday. The police may now either issue summons to Rakhi for investigation or a team be sent to Mumbai to record her statement.

The complaint has been filed by Prajit Tiwari, accused Rakhi for disrespecting PM Modi by wearing an indecent dress that carries his images all over. Tiwari who is also a BJP worker held in his plaint that Rakhi wore an indecent black dress to a pre-Independence Day party in the US on August 10 that was organised by the Federation of Indian Americans to celebrate the 70th anniversary of Indian Independence.

" Not only she wore it, but going a step ahead she posted her pictures on the social media which amounts to causing disgrace and humiliation of the prime minister. She did this intentionally because she was denied the Lok Sabha ticket from Mumbai" Tiwari said in his plaint. The lawyer also claimed that Rakhi's move has shamed Modi and the BJP not only in the country but internationally and hence she should be punished.

Institute president Prashant Agarwal informed that the members of the committee headed by MP Ramesh Bais viewed the whole operation process of the handicapped and spoke to handicapped people who came from different regions. The members also watched documentaries on workshop and services provided by the sewa sansthan for handicapped including employable sewing, computer, handicraft, mobile training program reforms, calipers workshop, physiotherapy cenurge for 40% tax under GST on all tobacco products to curb the epidemic of cancer"

Jaipur: While conversion to GST is generally a good thing, the GST Council's proposal on October 20th for 26% GST sin rate will be seriously injurious to health! Fixation of sin tax on tobacco at less than 40% would amount to making tobacco products affordable to youth, blunting the edge of India's tobacco policy. The sin tax is intended to pay for the damage caused to society by products like tobacco, and also to raise their prices to reduce their usage. Fixing the tax rate at 26% would defeat both purposes: it would slash current revenues from tobacco and encourage consumption of tobacco products among vulnerable populations, including children and youth, by making tobacco products more affordable. India has the second largest number of tobacco users (275 million or 35% of all adults in India) in the world - of these at least 10 lakh die every year from tobacco related diseases. Tobacco-use imposes enormous health and economic costs on the country.

There is certainly an overarching consensus that goods that are harmful to society categorized as "sin" such as tobacco be taxed at the highest rate under GST as recommended in the Chief Economic Advisor report which

h seeks a 40% GST sin rate on all tobacco products including cigarettes, bidis and chewing tobacco. The GST council meeting that concluded on October 20th proposed a much lower 26% GST sin rate which would have significant impact on the revenue as well as the health of our nation, both of which require serious consideration. The rationale for a sin damage caused to society by products like tobacco, and secondly, to increase the price and reduce their usage. A26% rate would defeat both purposes it would significantly reduce current revenues from tobacco and would actually make tobacco products more affordable and encourage consumption, especially among vulnerable population including children and youth

According to Dr. Rijo John, Assistant Professor, IIT Jodhpur, "Compared to a GST Sin rate of 40%, imposing a 26% Sin rate would reduce total tobacco tax revenue by almost one fifth (17%, or roughly Rs.10, 510 crores) even if the

Approximately 48 percent of men and 20 percent of women consume tobacco (35

government retains the current excise on tobacco products post GST. Clearly, 26% Sin rate will be well below the rate required to maintain a revenue neutral position for tobacco and will significantly reduce tax burden on ALL tobacco products since the existing average VAT rates themselves are higher than 26% on most tobacco products." Tobaccouse imposes enormous health and economic costs on the country. The total direct and indirect cost of diseases attributable to tobacco use was a staggering Rupees 1.04 lakh crore ($17 billion) in 2011 or 1.16% of India's GDP.

"A much lower GST rate
