GST: Raje pitches for lower tax on marble, sandstone

New Delhi: Chief minister Vasundhara Raje on Sunday made a case for keeping Kota stone, marble, sandstone and granite in the lower slab of 5 per cent under the GST.

Tax rates on various goods and services will be decided by the GST Council on the recommendation of the Fitment Committee. "Kota stone, marble, sandstone and granite are taxed at higher rates in other states. The Fitment Committee might decide to fit... (these products) in higher tax slabs.

"I request for consideration of putting marble, Kota stone, sandstone and granite in a lower slab of 5 per cent," Raje said while speaking at the third meeting of the Niti Aayog's Governing Council here.

While the GST Council has decided on a four-tier rate structure of 5, 12, 18 and 28 per cent, its Fitment Committee will devise a formula for the tax rate to be levied on different products and services under the Goods and Services Tax (GST) regime from July.

Noting that this will enable the state to take care of the gaps based on social-economic and geospatial analysis, Raje requested Niti Aayog to partner with Rajasthan for the exercise so that after successful rollout, learning can be shared with other states as well.

CAREER PLANNING SEMINAR WITH TIPS BY MK JAIN

MK. Jain Classes Private Limited organized a career planning seminar in Udaipur at Rajasthan Agriculture College Auditorium on Sunday. Students of Class 8, 9, 10, 11 and 12 participated in this seminar. Those who wanted to see their future in IIT, Medical, Commerce Career teachers and teachers of many schools also participated in the seminar.

Career Counselor Dr. M.K. Jain, who addressed more than 400 seminars till now gave excellent guidance to students about more than 100 jobs for which they can opt option he how ever shared the six six successes mantra to achieve success they are (1) Determine your goal in a wholesome manner (2) The reason behind the goal should be bigger. (3) Select groups with similar targets. (4) Make a detailed plan to achieve the goal. (5) If there is a failure, do not get frustrated but find the reason. (6) Keep your confidence in yourself.

Mr. Jains, talk mainly based on the aim of achieving stress and achieving results with IP method. In which how to prepare for science after 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th grade so that high success can be achieved in the future.

Students were motivated in the seminar with the help of time management, ways to increase self confidence and many popular videos. Many students are backward due to lack of information, so all the information related to science class has been given to the students.

In the seminar, parents were given tips to make their children more successful. According to Dr. Jain, if students take care of the following things, they can easily achieve their goals.

Tips The topic should be selected based on the need of the future because the subject you choose will be followed by the next six to seven years and you have to make your career. Should not only prepare for the 8th, 9th, 10th, 11th and 12th, but should have any one goal with him. To achieve high success, the SIP system should be adopted. Your qualification should be constantly expanded so that competitive examinations can get high marks. Students should do collective coaching, i.e. coaching should be done in such a place where all the subjects are available under one roof so that parents get all information together. Coordination in all subjects remains and time is also saved. Students should study regularly from the beginning. By which they get high success.

Tips given to parents According to Dr. Jain, 50 percent of the children's success is their parents' contribution. In today's perspective, the same parenting is a challenging task. Parents who do it successfully, have a great success in their children. He gave many parenting tips in a interesting way to parenting for right parenting.

Always motivate your children to move forward and provide a good family atmosphere. Do not discontinue it, but keep an eye on each of those activities. Promote her thoughts and reading habits.

Always excite the children while keeping patience. The four children of a father are not even equal, how can they be treated equally for two children. So do not compare with your children; Target it by looking at its abilities Do not compare your children with others.

Parents always say to children that we work all day long, but such parents do not give their children time. So give time to children.

Parents should actively participate in every activity of the child when the child is small, but it stops at all, but suddenly they leave all the decisions that fall into the class falling on the 9th and 10th, and when the child goes to 11th and 12th, parents Does not listen and takes decisions based on friends and fails.

Therefore parents should decide and talk to them about children. Be involved in every activity of the child and take care of it. Do not pressure the house to the pressure cooker and also give it limited freedom.

Parents give as much convenience as they need. Many parents, before giving too much comfort in emotion, give to the children and then regret one day. Therefore, tell the importance of giving whatever the children give.

The curiosity of students and parents participating in the seminar was addressed and at the end of the seminar, students were given free "Career Counseling Card".

For the students participating in the seminar. A free scholarship test will be organized on April 29, 2017. From 4 pm to 6 pm, the Nav Bharat Senior Secondary School will be in Ashok Nagar Campus. In this, scholarships will be given to eligible qualified students for coaching.

State, HPCL ink fresh Rs. 43,129 cr refinery deal, Ex CM raised questions

Jaipur: The Rajasthan government and the Hindustan Petroleum Corporation Ltd (HPCL) Tuesday signed a fresh memorandum of understanding (MoU) for setting up a 9 million metric tonne (MMT) per annum capacity refinery-cum petrochemical complex at Pachpadra in Barmer district of the state.

With this, the road has been cleared to resume work on the project, four years after it was first announced. The HPCL Rajasthan Refinery Limited, a joint venture between the HPCL and the state government, will build the refinery at an estimated cost of 43,129 crore. The state has already allotted 4800 acre land in Barmer for the project. Expected to be set up within four years of getting all the mandatory approvals, the refinery will be the first in India to meet Bharat Stage-VI (BS-VI) specifications. It will produce BS-VI emission norms compliant fuel petrol and diesel apart from petrochemical byproducts such as polypropylene and polyethylene.

Hailing the move, Union Minister for Petroleum and Natural Gas Dharmendra Pradhan said, "Rajasthan is touching new dimensions under Vasundhara Raje's leadership. The refinery is a big gift to eight crore people of Rajasthan, and to both the governments at Centre and in the state."

Hitting out at the opposition Congress, Pradhan said earlier the oil produced in state was processed elsewhere and Rajasthan only GOT the royalty. "Just to win elections, people's rights were neglected. Former CM Ashok Gehlot should answer, which is more - 3,736 crore or Rs 1,126 crore. It is Raje who negotiated the deal in state's interest," Pradhan said.

He was referring to the money the viability gap funding (VGF) of 1,123 crore that the state government would provide annually to the refinery for 15 years in form of interest free loan.

Under the new terms and conditions, the interest free loan (which state government has to pay) has come down to 16,845 crore, which was 56,040 crore in the previous MoU done by the Congress government in 2013, Pradhan said. "It was a direct loss of Rs 40,000 crore to the state of Rajasthan in 15 years. In the previous MoU, the state had to give Rs 3,736 crore interest free loan every year for 15 years, which would have burdened the state finances," Pradhan said.

He said government comes and goes but today's decision is important for state youth. The untoward incident was avoided and state will have 26% stake and refinery setup on BS-VI standards. "The investment will get the state revenue, provide employment to youth, and bring value addition industries leading to overall economic development," Pradhan added.

He informed that for speedy implementation of the project, the Centre and the state government will create a single window and the project will be monitored every 15 days. State CM said "Rajasthan is the biggest producer of crude oil in India, making up for the 24 per cent of country's total produce. The refinery has come as an injection whose results will be visible in coming 5-10 years," "She too hit out at Congress. "Even 70 years after independence, people face problems related to electricity, water and roads. Had there been a BJP government at the Centre all these years, such a situation would have never cropped up," she said, adding "we want to connect people with development." She said the result of the bypoll to Dholpur assembly seat has shown that people want to connect with dreams of Prime Minister Narendra Modi and thus voted for development. Raje also sought Centre's intervention in helping state tackle the problem of saline water. "If the saline water is treated, we would be able to provide it to areas which do not have access to proper drinking and irrigation water," she said. The chief minister urged Pradhan to hold the ground breaking ceremony for the refinery in the month of September/October.

HPCL chairman-cum-managing director Mukesh Kumar Sharma said HPCL added a new chapter in Rajasthan's history. "We assure that HPCL will complete the project soon," he added.

The MoU was signed by state mines and petroleum secretary Aparna Arora and Vinod S Shinoy, director refinery HPCL. All the state ministers, senior officials, MLAs, MP and other elected representatives were present. Gehlot hits out at 'half truths' on refinery; By delaying the Barmer refinery project by four years, the state has suffered revenue loss, job loss and business loss, which together combined is much more than 40,000 crore that the BJP government in Rajasthan claims to have saved by inking a fresh deal with HPCL, former chief minister Ashok Gehlot blamed BJP Govt after singing new MoU.
