Mime Shows by Martand Foundation impressed visitors at Hariyali Amavas Mela ...

Udaipur: Martand Foundation, Udaipur presented five hilarious short Mimes for the masses. Despite the drizzling on Fatehsagar ki Pal on Sunday evening the young artistes engrossed the moving crowd. Neither the artistes left the stage nor the spectators left the space. Mime "Desperate Dustbin" showcased how people ignore the existence of Dustbin and throw garbage on path making inconvenience to others. This was funny as each action evoked laughter. Popular mime "Plantation Week V/S Plantation Week" also exhibited the tendency of people to ill-treat the plant making it a mere dustbin. People have nothing to do with the plants to be raised at public places. In both these mimes the role of a child was emphasized as savior and encouraged children to to shoulder social responsibilities.

The mime "Smoking delight at public places" was too studied with comic actions. No one, even a body builder could stop a man smoking at bus stop where a young lady taught him the lesson. The mimes "Road Heroes" clubbed with two burning issues of traffic sense "Mobile and Mo-bike" and "Drink and Drive" were too funny. These mimes too delivered latent messages to overenthusiastic youngsters. Venue and audience of Monday were different. It was on Saheliyon ki Badi and witnessed by the ladies of all ages. The female gathering thoroughly enjoyed the shows. Young actors Mubin Khan, Sunil Tank, Vishal Jain, Bhuwan Sharma, Mukul Audichya, Richa Sharma, Sahil Khan, and children artistes

Gautam Bhatnagar, Mohammad Tanzeem, Darsheel Sankhla and Riya Sharma showcased their talent and received great applaud.
