Expectations from PM

Honorable Prime Minister of India, Shri Narendra Modi is synonymous to the hope of new India. Whenever he speaks or visits a place, people look at him with a lot of expectations. This week, PM Modi will be visiting the city and people have their list ready. Now how many issues this visit of Mr. Modi gets resolved is yet to be seen but people looking at him with a lot of hope is positive sign indeed. Udaipur has been in news for many good reasons in the past. And if at least a few demands are accepted at the top level, this city can get a total makeover. The biggest demand is a high court bench which is pending for decades. People from Udaipur and around have to visit Jodhpur for every small and big case. And as the system has been, it takes multiple hearings for a single case. This becomes all the more difficult for a poor tribal person. Another important need is to save the ecosystem of Lakes. Most of the lakes in the city are suffering from encroachment.

Editorial

Reduced size of a waterbody is an open invitation to an extreme situation like drought or flood. Udaipur cannot survive without these lakes. There must be a comprehensive policy for all the water bodies of the city which should be conserved under administrative control. A strong punitive action must be taken against those who are pushing the entire ecosystem into peril for momentarily monetary benefits. Udaipur's rich history and natural beauty have been well explored by the world as the city is known as a great tourist place. But this city can also offer a complete package of locations to make an entire movie or shoot serials. For this, the city must have a studio where films can be processed. An entire industry can be set up here. The Bollywood has been using the locations of the city in many movies since time immemorial. Many movies have been shot totally in Udaipur while hundreds of others have got important sequences and songs done here. If alone a studio gets set up here, tourism, employment, and business will grow manifold. Apart from these big requirements, Udaipur also needs to have some ongoing projects expedited. The railway gauge conversion is one of the most important projects. The railway line conversion between Udaipur and Ahmedabad is awaited for many years now. Once this link gets hooked up, the business will be highly benefited. Udaipur is equidistant to Delhi and Mumbai. Thus it will become a central point for the business that happens in these metro cities. Of course, the city will have a market to offer. And given the potential of the city, it will prove to be a great business point. Udaipur is one of the most talked about cities in Udaipur. Its location and natural beauty make it unique place to be or live in. The city just needs a little care and soon it can become one of the most important places of the country. It can be an epitome of heritage and modernity. Now all eyes are on the PM who will surely make this visit of his a memorable one for the citizens.

Om Puri's Last Film Mr. Kabaadi Releases on 8th September all over

Om Puri's final work releases posthumously this week. One of the greatest stalwarts of Hindi cinema, Om Puri breathed his last early this year on the 6th of January and left behind a void that can never be filled. His presence can now only be cherished by the works he left behind and one such gem is to finally make it to cinema halls. Anup Jalota produced Mr. Kabaadi that starred Om Puri will be hitting the cinema halls on 8th of September. Written and directed by Om Puri's first wife Seema Kapoor, Mr. Kabaadi is a satirical comedy that shows what happens when a 'kabaadi-wala' or a scrap dealer becomes rich, how he flaunts his wealth...to be like other millionaires how he changes his wardrobe, trying a different accent and expanding his business. The film has a power star cast that also stars Annu Kapoor, Vinay Pathak, Sarika, Satish Kaushik, Bijendra Kala, Kashish Vora, Ulka Gupta, Rajveer Singh among others. Interestingly, it is Satish Kaushik who has completed the dubbing for Om Puri's unfinished portions. While the social satire is quite spot on, one of the biggest take aways from the film is it's climax that interestingly has Om Puri in the character of a noble spirit giving a very important life lesson. One can only wait till the 8th of September to witness the magic of Om Puri in the

HDFC Bank launches all-in-one DigiPOS machines

Udaipur: HDFC Bank Ltd., today became the first bank in India to launch DigiPOS, a Point of Sale (POS) machine that offers a complete suite of digital payment options. DigiPOS will offer customers various digital payment options such as UPI, Bharat QR, SMS Pay and PayZapp, in addition to the facility to pay through debit / credit cards. In the coming months, HDFC Bank will convert its entire network of over 4 lakh PoS machines to DigiPOS without any investment by the merchants. The initiative integrates all popular digital payment methods in PoS machines thus offering greater convenience to both customers and merchants. For example, using the Bharat QR or UPI option, customer can scan the QR code and make payment using their smartphones. Similarly, SMS Pay option on the DigiPOS can be initiated by merchants in the home delivery business to facilitate payments through SMS to customers. As the largest acquirer in the country, HDFC Bank aims to enable all its existing merchants to accept digital payments thereby driving rapid adoption of digital transactions. "We are revolutionizing the way customers pay at merchant outlets by integrating UPI, Bharat QR, SMS Pay, and PayZapp on the DigiPOS machines. Digital Banking means offering convenience not just for customers but also for our merchant network. Merchants no longer have to keep different devices to receive payments and our entire PoS network will be converted to DigiPOS soon. We believe Digital PoS is a significant step towards further encouraging both customers and merchants to adopt the various digital payment platforms," said Mr. Parag Rao, Country Head - Card Payment Products, Merchant Acquiring Services, and Marketing, HDFC Bank.

HDFC Bank to train 15 lakh government school teachers in 12 states across India

Udaipur: HDFC Bank Ltd., launched Zero Investment Innovations for Education Initiatives (ZIIIE) to transform education in government schools across India. As part of this initiative, the bank will train 15 lakh school teachers across 12 states and union territories of India to improve the quality of education in 6.2 lakh government schools, thereby benefiting 8.3 crore students. Education is one of the core focus areas of the bank's Corporate Social Responsibility, where the objective is to Create Sustainable Communities. In Rajasthan, HDFC Bank will train 2 lakh teachers in over 70,000 government schools that will benefit more than 81 lakh school students. What is ZIIIE? It's an initiative to introduce innovation in school education at zero additional investment - by training teachers, inviting ideas from them, and implementing the selected ideas in schools to improve the quality of education. The initiative will be implemented in partnership with Sri Aurobindo Society and state governments. Through the initiative, the bank aims to achieve the following: 1. Improved education delivery in classrooms

2. Reduced drop-out rate 3. Creation of a conducive learning environment for girls and children with special needs 4. Enhanced teacher, parent & community involvement in improving education quality 5. Effective implementation of government programs like the Sarva Shiksha Abhiyan At a function organized in the city, the initiative was launched by chief guest Shri Vasudev Devnani, Minister of State for Education (Primary and Secondary), Govt. of Rajasthan, in the presence of Ms. Nusrat Pathan, Head - Corporate Social Responsibility, HDFC Bank; Ms. Smita Bhagat, Branch

Banking Head - North, HDFC Bank; Mr. Sambhrant, Director - Education, Sri Aurobindo Society; Mr. Satyen Modi, Zonal Head - Rajasthan, HDFC Bank; Mr. Mayank Agarwal, Head - Operations, Sri Aurobindo Society; and other senior officials of the bank and Sri Aurobindo Society. According to a report, some of the problems facing school education in India are poorly qualified teachers, very high student-teacher ratio, inadequate teaching materials, and outmoded teaching methods, leading to students lacking even rudimentary reading and writing skills. "As a socially responsible corporate citizen, HDFC Bank has started a movement to transform the quality of education in 12 states. We want to make education accessible, effective and bring it in tune with changing times. Who better than the teachers to bring about such a change in the temples of learning? This one-of-its-kind initiative is a part of the Bank's sustained endeavour to create a positive impact in the lives of the local populace through its Corporate Social Responsibility programme," said Ms. Nusrat Pathan, Head - Corporate Social Responsibility, HDFC Bank. "If the Indian education system really wants to gear up its students for the global economy in the coming years, the only way forward is to find innovation at the grassroots and scale them up to improve the quality of education. ZIIIE is an answer to this call for action and its heroes are those teachers in every corner of the country who have come up with brilliant ideas solely through their individual efforts. This initiative is to recognise them, to bring their best practices alive in thousands of other schools, and create an ecosystem that facilitates sharing of knowledge and skills within the education fraternity," said Mr. Sambhrant Sharma, Director - Education, Sri Aurobindo Society.

Educationist Dr. Gaurav Nigam's initiative 'Rendezvous'

New Delhi: Dr. Gaurav Nigam, a well-known educationist, paediatrician and Director of Intelligentsia, play school of Modern International School announces the launch of initiative 'Rendezvous', to train children in learning to talk about their own emotions. The launch took place inside the campus of Intelligentsia- the play school of Modern International School, Dwarka. Dedicated to encourage independent thinking, the newly created area of Rendezvous is very colorful and is made out of only natural resources. More importantly this has been created inside 'Intelligentsia' campus, the one of its kind research oriented and conceptual play school in Delhi/NCR. While children are taught basic literacy skills at play schools, they are usually not taught how to identify and express their feelings and emotions. This young generation probably wouldn't know how to describe their inner feelings, and they would eventually feel more frustrated by keeping things inside them. The initiative of Dr. Gaurav Nigam aims at providing superlative learning experience for children to make them identify emotional expressions and understand the use of emotional words to express their feeling through words. At Intelligentsia, it will create a conducive and safe learning environment for children using best research based learning material and methodologies. The unique platform will allow genius young minds to put their feelings or emotions into words in order to become more emotionally competent and articulate. It is an art to make children more emotionally intelligent individuals that motivates them to learn better while building positive, strong relationships with teachers, parents and friends. Dr. Gaurav Nigam, Director of Intelligentsia, play school of Modern International School says, "At Intelligentsia, we strive to promote excellence and innovation in education while leveraging best practices, tools and techniques to make the process of learning fun and effective for both students and teachers. Our new initiative, 'Rendezvous' is all set to help children learn dedicatedly to talk about their feelings and express their emotions in healthy ways. It's not just a colourful part of play school; it's a place that nurtures the growth, learning and development of children to make their dreams turn into reality."
