'UNIQUEST-2007' organized

Udaipur: More than 600 students from various colleges in India participated in various competitions in the Fest termed as All India Management Fest 'UNIQUEST-2007'.

Addressing the participants at the inaugural ceremony of the Fest, President of the Pacific University, Dr. Bhagwati Prakash Sharma said that the thumb impression & eyes are unique of every person in the world, in the same way, this fest is unique, hence the name of this fest has been named UNIQUEST. He called upon the students to participate in various competitions of the fest with the intention of learning, so that their quest to do something unique in life is quenched.

Dean Pro. Mahima Birla gave an example of Bamboo Plant in her explanation, how after planting, this plant is flourishing inside for five years and when it is crystallized after five years, it can reach up to 90 feet in a few days. Doesn't it. In the same way, learning process happens in the student life and keeps moving. There by enriching the personality of the students so that when they are crystallized in life, they can achieve unlimited heights of success. Part of this process of learning is to participate in programs such as fest. She said participating in a variety of competitions, the natural reluctance is within him and his skill develops to reach his point of delivering more effectively to more people. She said that this festival has been organized for the last 12 years, with the aim of providing an opportunity to calm the 'Quest' of students from all over the country. Fest coordinator Dr. Pushpakant Shakti and Dr. Shivoham Singh said that Pacific Unicavest has established a special place in India's Management Festivals due to its high level event, participation in large number of different competitions to students. Unhappiness lies within You

Happiness is the blessing and not every person can create this. I have seen many people who always ask about happiness but they look for it outside. We have earned luxuries for our homes but unfortunately many people are not enjoying them. Unhappiness lies within you. Mostly females feel jealous of other females. Without knowing the facts they start commenting on other females. They can't digest their smiling faces and hard work. Shanu is a typical house wife. She has never tried to do anything special for her family. She cribbs on simple issues and always comment on modern women who live freely and independently. Maya is her neighbour who works in an international bank. Shanu does not leave any single moment to comment on Maya's character. One day she saw her husband talking to Maya. Now she has made her life hell by thinking about Maya all the time. She is not ready to listen to her husband who has become sick and tired of her skeptical nature. Her marital life has been effected badly by her own behaviour. She is blaming Maya for everything but who will tell her to stop being skeptical? Some people really make their opinions so strong without any evidence that only God can make them realise the truth. They create unhappiness everywhere by their behaviour. No one can snatch your happiness if you don't allow. It's a simple fact which everyone ignores. Try to find happiness in your heart and stop blaming others for your tough situations. Every soul is born for a different purpose. It's in your own hands to destroy or create happiness. Some people choose to end their life because it seems easy for them. I have read in some books that if you die untimely or commit suicide, you will take birth in same situations. It's good to understand the journey of soul before taking any harsh decision. Break the chains of pessimism and free your soul from hatred, greed, stupidity and anger. We meet other souls not only by chance in life but we meet them to learn something. Never try to imitate those who have negative approach towards life. They can make you ill by blaming and teasing. No matter how close that person is to you, try not to get effected by him or her thoughts. Environment is not healthy or unhealthy, our own thoughts create our environment. Think positive and see good in others. Even your enemies can teach you something good. Open your heart for the positive vibes and let the negativity go. Don't look for happiness in materialistic things, they are going to end one day. Search for the true happiness which is inside you.

All engineering degrees secured via correspondence since 2001 invalid: SC

It was a major set back to lakhs of students who have secured Engineering degrees since 2001 through correspondence. The Supreme Court held that the engineering degrees obtained through correspondence courses from deemed universities in the past 16 years is invalid. A bench of Justices A K Goel and U U Lalit noted that the University Grants Commission (UGC) and the All India Council for Technical Education (AICTE) did not approve distance learning programmes in engineering studies and the approval granted by the Distance Education Council (DEC) for such courses was illegal. The court was hearing a batch of petitions on the validity of correspondence courses of four deemed universities - JRN Rajasthan Vidyapeeth, Institute of Advanced Studies in Education in Rajasthan, Allahabad Agricultural Institute and Vinayaka Mission's Research Foundation in Tamil Nadu - which have been providing engineering education through correspondence since 2001 despite AICTE disapproval. The court restrained all deemed universities from offering correspondence courses without the approval of the AICTE. It also directed a CBI probe against officials who allowed universities to run the programme since 2001. The court also barred educational institutions from providing courses in subjects like engineering in the distance education mode. The court affirmed the findings of the Punjab and Haryana High Court and also set aside an order of the Odisha High Court which had permitted technical education through correspondence. The Punjab and Haryana HC had ruled that a degree in computer science obtained through correspondence could not be considered on par with the one attained by attending regular classes.

17th National Para Swimming Championship begins

Udaipur: Rao Inderjit Singh, Minister of State for Chemicals and Fertilizers, said that today's day is historic for the country. This is because para swimming has started in Lakes City's playground, which has become synonymous and pride. A healthy person can achieve the goal by facing every difficulty, but physically and mentally retarded players are performing well here, not just the country, but the world is giving different messages on the table. Even though it is physically incompetent in some form or another, but the passion for swimming is different.

The Minister was addressing the inauguration ceremony of the 17th National Para Swimming Championship, jointly organized by the Indian Paralympics Committee, Narayan Seva Sansthan, Para Sports Association Rajasthan and Maharana Pratap Khelgaga Society on the swimming pool of Khelgaon. He expressed his happiness in organizing such an event in Udaipur, one of the major cities of Rajasthan, that the country's parade swimming team had won four medals in the international competition held last year, but now it is expected from the way the preparations are being done. India's team will win 10 medals in the competition in Japan in the year 2020.

He said that the central government is engaged in preparing the army of players for the country by the year 2025, so that India can move forward against other countries in the events organized at the international level. Prime Minister Narendra Modi also has an emphasis on promoting para players especially.

The Union Minister Rao said that during the inauguration, there is no time limit for the chief guest to speak in any event. He himself is a leader as well as a player. In today's event, no player will consider paying attention to the leader's point of view. His goal is to improve his record by simply playing a better game. I myself can understand their mood. Simultaneously, Union Minister Indrajit Singh announced the beginning of the competition.

Also, other guests fired balloons and conveyed the message of this contest to other countries. Presiding over the function, Harish Rajani, president of Rajasthan Sindhi Sahitya Akademi expressed happiness over such an event. Special in state DM Bishnucharan Mallik, Narayan Sewa's founder chairman and Padmashri Kailash Manav, Indian Swimming Association Secretary Kamlesh Nanavati, Rajasthan Swimming Association president Anil Vyas, Swimming PCI Chairman VK Dabas, PCI CEO Shamshad Shahrukh, Indian Swimming Association CEO Virendra Nanavati, Jagdish Dhakad, Dada KH Lakhani from Hong Kong graced the inaugural ceremony. Initially, the organizing committee president Prashant Agarwal informed about the event. Mrs Vandana Agarwal, Director, Narayana Seva Institute, welcomed the guest. Karnataka Swimmer Moin Junaidi, who has more than 300 cracks in the body, inspires his fellow players, saying that someone's victory in the contest is a defeat, but nobody needs to be disappointed. Afraid of their courage through a shayari, said that to keep moving forward in life, keep going.

One day, definitely the success will move at your steps. Vote of thanks and proceedings were organized by District Sports Officer Lalit Singh. Initially, the march pasted by all the players was performed after guest's lamp pavilion ceremony. March past included players from various states and PCI Andhra Pradesh, BSF, Chandigarh teams including Rajasthan, Delhi, Chandigarh, Goa, Gujarat, Haryana, Jharkhand, Karnataka, Madhya Pradesh, Maharashtra, Punjab, Tamil Nadu, Telangana, Tripura, West Bengal. About 323 swimmers from different states are participating in the championship.

The championship technical director, Dr. VK Dobas said that the championship will have 360 swimming competitions in different categories. Senior category (19 years or more) Junior category (15-18 years of age) Sub-junior (10 to 14 years of age group) and physically in the Divyanga category (S1-S10) Total 10 Divya category, In (S 11-S 12) there will be two squares, whereas the mental divyanga category will have S 14 squared. The competition is being held on the basis of international swimming rules.
