IMPLEMENTATION OF COTPA IS ONLY ON PAPERS, REVEALS STUDY

Jodhpur: A recent survey in Jodhpur reveals that strict implementation of the Cigarettes & Other Tobacco Products act (COTPA) has to go a long way in Rajasthan. A study was done to understand COTPA compliance in schools of Jodhpur, as it is seen that sale of tobacco products is rampant around educational institutions. The study conducted in 20 educational institutions of Jodhpur shows clear violations of COTPA Section 6-b (which bans sale of tobacco products within 100 yards of the educational institutes). COTPA also mandates mandatory display of signage outside the school but there were no schools displaying signages. There is clear violation of COTPA being done by the educational institutes. Sambandh Health Foundation conducted a pictorial survey in September 2017 to assess the compliance of Section 6 of COTPA. The survey covered 20 educational institutions randomly selected from North, South, East and West zones of Jodhpur.

The outcomes of the said survey are shocking. Out of the surveyed 20 educational institutions, 100% percent schools had shops selling tobacco within 100 yards of school premises. 45% of the schools had tobacco products being sold in shops within 0-35 yards. Remaining 55% out of 20 institutions too had shops selling tobacco at less than 100 yards exposing young students to easy accessibility of injurious tobacco products. It was also noted that none of the surveyed institutions had the anti-tobacco signage required to be displayed as per law outside the main gate.

In 4 educational institutes, out of 20, the pan-shops selling tobacco products were located within 20 yards from the school building. Another 5 schools, pan shop selling tobacco products were 21-35 yards from the school building. Whereas another 4 educational institutes, the shops selling tobacco products were 36-50 yards from the school building. Dharamveer Katewa, President Indian Asthma Care Society said, "In Rajasthan, 250 children initiate tobacco use every day. Based on the findings of the survey, immediate intervention is required from the Government of Rajasthan to make educational institutions safe for youngsters. He said the Government has already taken proactive measures to curb this practice and recently they have issued notifications in relation to this. But all the stakeholders need to join hands and work towards successful implementation.

Bhomat Festival, a Tribal Treat

Udaipur: Atwo-day celebration to keep the tribal culture alive was organized this weekend. The venue was famous Azad Ground of Jhadol area and the crowd included local as well as foreigners who got mesmerized after seeing the cultural opulence and love for heritage. Performances like Gawari, Bhamai, and local folk dances left people exhilarated and amazed.

Popularly known as Bhomat, the event also saw a child-fair which had more than 100 stalls by children. Stalls included an exhibition of development tasks being done by the organization in Rajasthan, Madhya Pradesh, and Gujarat apart from eateries.

Addressing the children in the Bhomat Mahotsav, former president of foreign affairs of Europe Berones Sandeep Verma, who was also presiding over the ceremony said that the Bhomat Festival is crafting its own niche on the world map. "This program gives an identity to these children and they are getting overall development. Tribes are the root of our society and we should not forget that," said Verma.

The founder Pundit Jeevatrat Sharma was earlier offered a tribute by all the present dignitaries. The manager of Rajasthan Bal Kalyan Samiti Girija Shankar sharma said that children from across 23 cities from Rajasthan, Gujarat, and Madhya Pradesh not only attended but also participated in the program.

Coordinator of the festival Dr. SV Singh said that children took special interest and performed well to leave one and all electrified. Their exuberance was unmatched.

The stage was totally digitized and children performed in traditional dresses. Audiences remained in the ground till late night to see the performances by kids.

The exciting program also got some emotional touch as the wife of founder Pt. Jeevatrat Sharma Mrs. Himmat Devi Sharma got a little emotional.

She recalled that Mr. Sharma had started this organization 37 years ago in one room and then offered all that he had to take it to peak.
