

A-Day Workshop On Good & Bad Touch

Udaipur: On the initiative of district collector Bishnucharan Mallik, the first workshop of the campaign launched to develop an understanding of the difference between good and bad touch in girls was organized in the auditorium of St. Paul School.

In the workshop, Home Minister Gulabchand Kataria, MLA Phoolsingh Meena, Zila pramukh Shantilal Meghwal, UIT Chairman Ravindra Shrimali, District Collector Bishancharan Mallik, Joint Director of Education Department Bharat Mehta, Deputy Director Shivaji Gaur, District Education Officer Sushila Nagauri and Girija Vaishnav, Dy. Director, ICDS, Taru Surana, Prakash Palwal of Miraj Group, Father of St. Paul's School, and other related departmental officers were present.

In the workshop, school girls, Anganwadi workers, Asha Associates, teachers etc participated. These people will work to spread awareness on their level.

On the occasion of the inauguration of the workshop, Home Minister Gulabchand Kataria said that it is necessary for the all-round development of any society that its future generation should have good values. Considering the incidents of women's harassment in society, a broad awareness is needed. Which started with today's workshop. Especially for minor girls, harassment is very dangerous for the society. He called upon the present girls and women community that do not visualize any incident of bad touch and bring it to light.

On this occasion, the guests also released Flex and Kit releasing message-based awareness message.

State initiatives

In his address, Kataria said that Rajasthan was the first state after Madhya Pradesh which made strict laws regarding the misdeeds of girls of young age. The law provided for the execution of the culprit with the child under 12 years of age. As per this provision, the court has so far sentenced 4 people to death, which is a precedent. With the efforts of the state government in the last 4 years, a decrease of 22 percent has been recorded in the crimes related to women.

The state government is also providing self-defense training to make the girls strong and self-sufficient so that they can keep their mind.

SAMVAAD: REGIONAL MEETS TO CATALYSE DIALOGUE KICKS OFF

Udaipur: The third regional meet of Samvaad 2018 kicked off in Udaipur, Rajasthan recently. The Samvaad 2018 regional meets, organised by

Tata Steel's Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR) team, support the rich and incalculable heritage of India's tribal communities by providing a platform to share ideas and perspectives over two-day events focused on this year's theme -- 'Coming Together for Social Change'. The meet at Udaipur focuses on deconstructing concerns and identifying solutions across a range of subjects including access to education, prevalent health concerns and forest-based livelihoods. Underscoring these discussions is the awareness and profundity of our tribal communities. The third regional dialogue of Samvaad in Udaipur is being organised in collaboration with the Centre for microFinance, Astha Sansthan, Aajeevika

Bureau and Tata Trusts. The event has brought together 139 people belonging to 19 tribes from 21 districts of Rajasthan, Gujarat and Maharashtra. Mr. Sourav Roy,

Chief, CSR, Tata Steel, said: "Samvaad, Tata Steel's foremost outreach programme to understand and support tribal communities, is now in its fifth year. After the tremendous participation at our recent events in East and South India, the response from the tribal communities at this event in Udaipur underscores the importance of Samvaad. Tata

Steel has been working ahead of the curve to engage with indigenous peoples and support and encourage their way of life."

Earlier this month, the first two regional dialogues were held in Odisha (Gajapati) and Tamil Nadu (Madurai) that reached out to 285 participants from 66 tribes in the Eastern and Southern states of the country.

The regional Samvaad meets are a series of six community-sourced dialogues among tribal communities, culminating in the main conclave from November 15-19, 2018 at Jamshedpur, Jharkhand. The remaining regional Samvaad meets for this year are planned in Nagaland, Chhattisgarh and Jharkhand.

Demand for Jain representation in Congress

Udaipur: In the forthcoming assembly elections in Rajasthan, the Congress party must give the ticket to at least two Jain candidates in Mewar so that the Congress dream of winning Rajasthan along with Mewar Vijay can be realized. This idea was expressed by the speakers of the Jain community at a grand reception organized by the Mewar Jain Society.

This demand was raised in a well coming program organized to felicitate Raghuvir Singh Meena CWC member of senior Congress leader Raghuvir Singh Meena at Guru Pushkarsadhana center, Sector-3.

Speakers said that Jain society has been in business, intellectual and social domination over the entire Mewar area for years. This society has made an incomparable contribution to the development of the region in collaboration with all the societies. In politics, the shoulder side has played a pervasive role. Jain society's vote is crucial in every election. Bharatiya Janata Party has won the election by paying tickets to Jain candidates. This time, by giving representation to the Jain community in the Congress party, may help in clean sweep in Mewar. On this occasion, senior Congress leader Narendra Kumar Jain, Block Congress organization minister Dilip Jaroli and others greeted Raghuvir Singh Meena by offering Pagadi Shawl, Upana and Memento.

Shri Meena said that he has got the support of Jain society in every sphere of life. Jain Samaj has always made incomparable cooperation in convincing the Congress Party. He will, however, try to support the candidature of the deserving candidate in caste equations. Former Union Minister Dr. Girija Vyas reminded that Maharana Pratap was able to fight the fight of freedom only with the support of Bhamashah of society. Jain society has always supported social harmony. This society must get representation from Mewar. District President Lalsingh Jhalla said that he has always given good and capable representatives of Jain society a fair position in the party and he has lobbied at a higher level. Zilapramukh Chaganlal Jain said that now the time has come that the gross Jain society should come together to show its strength, to enter strong positions in politics so that it can get representation at an equal level in the distribution of tickets.

Jain candidates should be given tickets from other seats including Mavli.
