Lakshya Raj Singh Mewar bags Guinness Book of World Records

Udaipur: Udaipur royalty Lakshyaraj Singh Mewar won a Guinness Book Record for a campaign that collects clothes for the under-privileged and thereafter distributes them to the needy. The campaign VASTRADAN has collected over 3,29,250 pieces of clothing material from over 76000 donors.

The campaign reached out to over 120 schools, 15 colleges and around 30 NGO's during the campaign period.

Taking no credit for the World record collection, Lakshyaraj Singh Mewar said 'Not me, but the Vastradaan Campaign has won the record.

I dedicate this award to the sheer beauty of a human heart, the spirit of brotherhood and the deep connect that Udaipur has for all its citizens".

He added "I started the campaign as an innovative exercise in giving. I could have asked some organisations to fund the same, but I wanted the citizens, young boys and girls of this remarkable city to show what a large heart they have.

The royal also has plans to make the campaign an annual affair and believes it instils the dedication and discipline of giving.

This he believes, is a hallmark of a culturally rich, stable & morally sound society. Interestingly, the previous world record was held by Dubai where the local citizens had donated 2,95,122 articles of clothing in 2016.

Here the cloth donations came in from more than 12 countries including Australia, USA, Oman, Sri Lanka and UAE.

Woman: A catalyst of change and development

"International Women's Day" is a day especially dedicated to celebrate the essence of womanhood and their achievements and commendable contribution to the society. History is a witness that women have fought their way through exploitation, harassment and have managed to secure their rights in the public domain over the centuries. Several milestones have been achieved in terms of education, freedom of choice, liberty and equality. Education has indeed given a huge breakthrough to a large number of women to take a lead in enhancing the economy and stimulating growth in several countries. However, still a lot remains undone when it comes to women security, violence and discrimination against women and gender equality. Womanhood is a precious vocation, the essence of which lies in her natural ability to care, love and sacrifice for the other. Woman displays a wonderful range of emotions from being patient to being extremely courageous in times of crisis and critical circumstances. Woman is the foundation of the family and of the society, playing a vital role in the odyssey of life. She truly deserves all the honour, dignity and self-respect for being the person that she is.

The theme for International Women's Day 2019 is "Think equal, Build smart, and Innovate for change". It beautifully focuses on discovering innovative ways to advance gender equality and the empowerment of women in diverse spheres. Women's Day 2019 exhorts every nation to provide unprecedented opportunities for women in every field be it science, technology, engineering, medicine or any other field. This will remove the barriers and accelerate progress through gender equality.

While we speak of women empowerment, education is one of the most important means of empowering women with the knowledge, skills and self-confidence with which they can change the world. Kofi Annan, former Secretary General of UN has rightly said, "No development tool is more effective than education of girls and empowerment of women." Such statements and testimonials simply encourage effective action for advancing and recognizing women and their ability to bring about development. We need to provide healthcare, education, equality and a safe environment for women to fearlessly exercise their rights. "To empower a woman is to inspire a change because she has the power to transform the society."

Today every woman needs to have faith in herself and believe in her own God given abilities and accept her unique skills and talents; learn to own them and use them fearlessly to contribute to the world. As we celebrate womanhood, let us give ourselves an assurance that - Future is bright, equal, safe and rewarding. Remember, you are born to win; your creator has endowed you with divine qualities of endurance, resilience and faith that can move mountains. Follow your dreams; follow your heart and never give up. Let us together make our voices heard for a better world that will translate the vision of empowering women to reality.
