India's next step PoK - Dr. Parminder Dashora

Udaipur: A seminar on the topic 'End of Section 370 - A Step towards Akhand Bharat' was organized by the History Collection Committee Udaipur in the auditorium of the Vishva Sanwad Kendra. Addressing the seminar, Dr. Parmendra Dashora said that according to religious scriptures, the area in the south of Himalayas and north of the ocean in India. In such an India, how can we imagine any Pakistan, Afghanistan, and Bangladesh. In such a situation, the separation of Kashmir from India is a false act. Development of Kashmir will come with the end of Section 370 and the next step of the country is to reclaim Pakistan occupied Kashmir. Article 370 was a hoax with the country which was neutralized by Parliament.

Speaking at the event, Mahavir Prasad Jain said that the real culprits of Kashmir were Jawaharlal Nehru, Mohammad Ali Jinnah, Harisingh, Sheikh Abdullah and Lord Maumbatten. He said that the inclusive culture of Kashmir had started to be destroyed in the 17th century during the reign of Muslim ruler Sikandar Butashikan of Kashmir. After which the leaders and separatist leaders of political organizations like the National Conference and PDP ended the decade of the 1990s.

The regional organization minister of the committee, Chhaganlal Bohra, said that Pakistan had forcibly captured Balochistan in the year 1979 and landed the Pakistan army in Kashmir in disguise of the tribals to take over Kashmir. The formation of Pakistan is a reflection of India's opposition and on this basis, Pakistan still maintains the ideology of Gajwa-e-Hind. In such a situation, no peace can be expected from Pakistan. Therefore, the end of section 370 is the solution to the problem of Kashmir and taking a step forward, the Government of India has started talking about PoK.

District Minister Chanshankar Dashora of the committee said that the predecessor governments have kept spreading illusions about Section 370 from time to time and that removing it will only make the accession of Kashmir to India unconstitutional. There was nothing like this and the present government amended it by removing the disputed clause of this section within minutes. Now only one clause has survived in section 370. That too is not a hindrance for the development of the valley.

Aabid Surti's latest book launched

Mumbai-based National Award Winning author Aabid Surti, who among many other things is also an incisive environmentalist and accomplished artist, is back in full force. The author of many bestselling books, some of which have even courted controversy, has revisited one of his autobiographical tomes titled 'Sufi - The Invisible Man of The Underworld' and updated it to make it more current. Sriram Raghavan, Shridhar Raghavan and Annie Zaidi were present at the launch.

"Sufi," begins Surti, "is the story of two boys who grew up in the 60s and 70s' Mumbai's infamous Dongri area. The first of them, Iqbal Rupani rises through the ranks to crown himself underworld kingpin, on one hand, and becomes extremely pious, on the other hand. While he through his puritan stance becomes well-known as 'Sufi', the story catches up with the other boy-turned-man, Aabid Surti, that's me as well," avers the master story-teller with a smile.

The real story of the two boys who start at the same line and then flow so divergently away in life, is one of massive scale and told by one of India's beloved wordsmiths. "The changes have been made to make the story flow better, and to edit out dated legal information," Surti informs.

Speaking about Surti, popular filmmaker Sriram Raghavan states, "As I got pulled into the book I wondered if all that he was saying was fiction or could it be real? It actually felt like a fascinating Eastman colour movie that he had mounted."

Well-loved scriptwriter Shridhar Raghavan said that he has known Surti since he was 8 years old. "When I first met him he was the 40 year old creator of Bahadur and I was a fascinated 8 year old, and today the tables have turned. I am a 40 year old while he feels like an energetic 8 year old."

Mentioning that he seared through the book yesterday in a single sitting, he exults how Sufi is "a fascinating chronicle of a Bombay of prohibition and gold smuggling, of Haji Mastan growing up and Dawood, still a toddler."

Noted writer Annie Zaidi says simply that, "I started reading Sufi yesterday and it's completely unputdownable."
