The Matter of Pious love!

Prashant Shrivastava

The long awaited fast of the year is right here upon us. And the ladies of the house are apprehensive as well as excited.

But this is nothing new. They have been doing the same fast with the same diligence since last so many years. While the veterans are excited and know how to deal with thirst, particular, the newlywed girls who are observing their maiden KarwaChauth are looking to be more careful for the day. "I have celebrated more than 25 such fasts so I am not worried but I know my daughter in law would be very caution and apprehensive. I am looking to guide and support her," says Lata Sharma.

Though the modern girls of this age are always confident of what they do and can do, still when it comes to following the ritual of this grandeur, they like to be supported. "We live away from home but I have set up a live video sharing with my mother in law for the Saturday evening. She will guide me and I will follow, simple," says Nivi Raj Varma.

As this is a pre-Diwali season, the market is already decked up with offers and discounts. And this is the best time to pick up some great gifts for your spouse. Ladies are busy for a scintillating look; men are searching for best presents for their wives. And in some cases, even wives would be looking for presents for their husbands—not to return a gift but to thank him for the fast.

After all, the young generation of men too fasts for their loving wives, don't they?

"I love fasting with my wife. We believe that our prayers will ensure that we live together forever. If my longevity is requested by her, I must look for her long life too," says Avinash Shah, freelance software professional.

The entire matter revolves around true love. With all the values and tenets, the couples are ready to face the moon with an ocean of love in their hearts.

UDAIPUR CITY : BIGGEST CHALLENGE FOR ANY POLITICAL PARTY

Udaipur: The biggest challenge for any political party even before contesting elections is the selection of candidates. The people who want to serve are too many for every seat, and the party has to leave all but one unhappy about the reward called election ticket. Be it an unknown MLA or a famous minister like Gulab Chand Kataria, winning a ticket is a challenge which is proportional to their fame and work report. One of the most interesting scenes is about the home minister Kataria who is being challenged by other stalwarts of his own party. Ganwant Singh Jhala, Dalpat Surana, and Praveen Ratlia are among the names challenging the candidature of Kataria. Similarly, in the Congress party, Girja Vyasis is up against Dinesh Shrimali, Lal Singh Jhala, Pankaj Sharma, and Suresh Shrimali. Kataria is facing the challenges by more than a dozen other contestants for the first time in his political career. Praveen Ratlia is associated with Suhani Sardi campaign and has worked to donate blood to the needy ones. He has aimed to have donated around one million blood units by the year 2020. As an analytical thinker, he made the issue of 'child deprived of cloths' a human rights issue, not a welfare matter or a charitable cause.

He has established that 'child deprived of cloths' is the result of the perpetuation of poverty, unemployment, population explosion and many other social evils. Gunwant Singh Jhala who is the vice chancellor of Bhupal Nobles University hails from Jhadol area. Dalpat Surana is a businessman and is a known face. The president of Dungeerpur Nagar Palika KK Gupta is also presenting his candidature. He has claimed to have the support of a number of business men. Girja Vyasis is a nationally known leader and has played many roles in the past. She is a member of the CLC of Congress presently.

Dinesh Shrimali was defeated by Kataria in the previous elections and is LoP of the municipal corporation. A number of people are queued up to get the ticket based on their popularity and work they have done in the past. However, the party would only play with the people who have better winnability.
