"GMCH Doctors Treats Achalasia Cardia Through Laparoscopy"

Achalasia Cardia is a rare disease of the muscle of the lower esophageal body and prevents relaxation of the sphincter and an absence of contractions of the esophagus.

While its causes still remains unknown, this condition degenerates esophageal muscles affecting one's ability to swallow, chest pain and regurgitation of food and liquids. The commonest symptom of achalasia is difficulty in swallowing, and patients get a sensation that the swallowed food gets stuck in the chest. This problem invariably progresses and becomes severe. Other symptoms include chest pain, pneumonia, heartburn, a sensation of fullness or a lump in the throat, long term complications of malignancy of food pipe and weight loss. The patient, Chittorgarh resident, Daali Devi (Age 40 years), reported with severe conditions of chest pain and vomits after failing to get treatment in other hospitals," said Gastroenterologist Dr. Pankaj Gupta.

"HellersMyotomy with Partial Fundoplication procedure is relatively a new procedure that uses a laparoscope to make an incision of 1 centimeter near navel which then cuts through the muscles at the bottom of the food pipe that helps food pipe to relax.

This enables food to move down without causing further trouble while swallowing. This restored the esophageal function and patient started eating from the next day of surgery," said Dr. Kamal Kishore. Explaining the case, Dr. Kamal Kishore, Gastro Surgeon, GMCH said, "The patient had difficulty in swallowing food since 6 months.

The condition worsened in last two weeks, accompanied by nausea and vomiting. We advised him to undergo laparoscopic procedure as it would not create incisions in the chest or abdomen and includes a very short stay at the hospital.

This procedure is more effective and safe for treating Achalasia, a swallowing disorder as compared to traditional methods of open surgery. It also helped the patient to recover fast and get back to normal life. This disease usually occurs between 25 to 60 years of age."

CEO Geetanjali Medical College & Hospital, Mr. Prateem Tambolisaid that, "Geetanjali Medical College & Hospital is a quaternary care multi super-specialty hospital where the complete experienced and skilled team of gastroenterologist & gastro surgeon is present. The procedure so chosen demanded skills & expertise to which the team managed to bring smile to their patient.

With his experience of traveling to several countries and looking to the needs of Udaipurites, he started building Arvanah at Hathipole. Hasan says that it has been built with a special purpose. It provides an opportunity for people, especially women, who were working at home to market their products here. Some shopkeepers in the neighbouring areas have also shifted here. Hasan has represented Udaipur's oldest market with all the facilities which were missing in the area ex: parking, washrooms, good food, indoor market and lot more. Hasan says that Arvanah is not a shopping mall but a shopping centre with all the amenities of a mall, to understand in a better way it is a shopping destination. For the convenience of Udaipurites it is located in the heart of the city.

Arvanah, built without any compromise in quality, was inaugurated by famous Bollywood actor Jacky Shroff, actress Soha Ali Khan and Laxayaraj Singh Mewar on August 26th 2016. It has now over 70 shops, 15 offices, 2 restaurants, fast food brands, kiosks, game zone, spa, hair salon, supermarket etc. On top 2 floors are residential flats. The market is planned to fulfill the requirements and taste of Udaipurites. Hatipole is a tourist spot and ARVANAH serves all the facilities to national and international tourist in support of smart city campaign. Shops here are available at reasonable rent and shopping is affordable. No wonder the location of ARVANAH is good and it has become a destination for shopping. There is a big exhibition hall for conferences/seminars with 300+ person capacity, also a party and banquet hall for 500+ guest and ample parking space with double basements.

Fulfillment of his dream of serving people of his city was a matter of satisfaction for him when Arvanah was completed.
