

Geetanjali Cancer Center launches a movement "Cancer Mukt Samaj"

Udaipur: On Sunday, February 2, under the joint aegis of Geetanjali Medical College and Hospital and Geetanjali Cancer Center Udaipur, the "Cancer Awareness Program and Survivor Meet 2020" was organized in the Geethanjali Medical College to create a "Cancer Mukt Samaj" with the objective of 1) Our dream is cancer-free society, 2) To spread cancer awareness among the general public, 3) Right check at the right time, early prevention & 4) Mission to Reach as many people as possible through social organizations and corporates.

The event was an event for cancer-fighting and curing patients, in which cancer-free patients could return to a healthy life through this program. The chief guest of the event was, Prateem Tamboli, CEO of Geetanjali Medical College and Hospital.

The program was inaugurated with the lamp lighting by CEO Prateem Tamboli and all the doctors of the oncology department.

The program started with an awareness dialogue on cancer through Radiology Oncologist Dr. Ramesh Purohit.

He said that patients who have cancer could be saved if they get treatment at the right time as soon as symptoms are known, for this it is necessary to have cancer awareness which is the campaign of our cancer mukt samaj.

15-year-old Prem Kumar Meena, who had blood cancer due to pain in his legs and family, did not get any rest even after getting treatment from Ahmedabad, and a family brought him to Geetanjali Hospital. Through a poem titled "ye mat Kaho Khuda ki mushkilen badee hai", he recited the poem in a wheelchair, which was mesmerized, everyone at the time of 2019 survivor meet, but this time he performed a dance and shocked everyone, the audience applause to cheer the child. Now this child is healthy and living like normal children.

40-year-old Lokesh Paliwal, who has recovered from cancer, said that he became very frustrated when he came to know that he had confirmed a lump in his throat and thyroid cancer during the test. Later he came to Geetanjali Cancer Center for treatment and today is healthy. He greeted all the doctors and said that do not be afraid of cancer, get it treated.

Hemant Sharma, who was cured of cancer of the fourth stage of the mouth, played the music of the song "Ik pyar ka nagma hai" playing the harmonium, while the same CEO Tamboli came forward to give lyrics to his music.

The group dance "Bum Bum Bole Masti Mein Dole" was also performed by the youngest Cancer Survivors, people could not stop themselves seeing this emotion; the entire auditorium filled with applause. 15-year-old Mahzabi Khan was shown in several hospitals because her throat and mouth were swollen and had a lot of weakness. After coming to Geetanjali, the investigation revealed that she had a small lump near her heart, after which the patient was treated. Today, the child is healthy and is busy with her studies, and her family is thrilled to find her healthy again.

GMCH CEO Prateem Tamboli said that the patient is being treated here with the latest technologies at a nominal rate. He said that the objective of this program is to increase the morale of cancer patients and motivate them and call for a cancer-mukt samaj by the people so that the awareness of cancer is communicated to the people. The highlight of the program was the panel discussion of the doctors of the oncology department, the names of the doctors involved are as follows: HOD of the oncology department, Dr. A. R. Gupta, Dr. Ankit Agarwal from Medical Oncology, Oncology Surgeons Dr. Ashish Jakhethiya and Dr. Arun Pandey, Dr. Ramesh Purohit, Dr. Kiran Chigurupalli and Dr. Menal Bhandari from Oncology Radiation, Dr. Anil Bhimal from Oncology, Palliative Care. During the panel discussion, all the doctors discussed issues such as the prevention of symptoms of cancer, and people were made aware of the formation of the tumor, in which it was told that the cancer is determined by the team of medical, radiation and surgeons.

During the program, the Rotary Club of Panna released a hair donation poster for cancer patients with the help of Geetanjali Hospital.

Rotary Club Vasundhara, Rotary Club

Bharat Jodo Samajwadi Vichar Yatra Reaches Udaipur

A Non-Violent Sustained Struggle is the Need of the Hour : Dr. Sunilam

Udaipur. Bharat Jodo Samajwadi Vichar Yatra reached Udaipur in the afternoon of Monday 3rd Feb, 2020.

The members of the Yatra were welcomed at Mohta Park from where they marched along with the local supporters to the Community Hall of Bohra Youth in Boharwadi. A Press Conference and a public meeting was held there. Addressing the Public meeting former MLA and Peasants leader Dr. Sunilam said that the present Union government has taken unconstitutional measures and is promoting a separatist divisive agenda of fundamental Hinduism.

It is serving the interest of the corporate and is not bothered about the problems of the masses. He said that a sustained non-violent struggle is the need of the hour.

He said that people of India have woken up and have united under the banner "Hum Bharat Ke Log". This broad unity will save the nation. Addressing the press the convenor of Bharat Jodo Samajwadi Vichar Yatra chrted the route of the Yatra and said that it aims at attracting youth to the ideals of Socialism.

He said that the BJP and RSS combine have imprisoned Gandhi. We need to free him and along with him free the people of this nation from communal hatred. The meeting was addressed by Shankar Lal Chaudhary of CPI(ML), Prof. R.N.Vyas, Shashibhushan, Commander Mansoor Ali, Pramila, and other speakers. A Book "Gandhi ne Sambhav Kiya" written by Bharat Doshi was released on this occasion. Himmat Seth Convened the meeting and Abid Adeb presided over it.

The Cult of Gun

The 30th January is the day when father of the nation Mahatma Gandhi was brutally murdered by a communal fanatic Nathuram Godse. The same thing happened this year when a young man fired shot towards a crowd and hit a student of Jamia Milia Islamia. There has been a rise in the cult of Gun in the world. Despite the slogan of democracy, the might is right proverb is seen operating across the world. It is ironical that those who used to blame communism for their alleged adherence to a philosophy that does not shun violence, are raising slogans to shoot the so called Gaddars. These people hold a berth in Union cabinet and claim to be the rulers of India. Not much time has lapsed when another gun - bearer was caught in Shaheen Bagh and handed over to the police. Thankfully this time the shot did not hurt anyone. The cult of gun has become a symbol of power. Those who get elected to power start thinking as if exercise of power indiscriminately is their right.

In another incident in Udaipur, a car was stopped by blocking the road and a violent mob attempted attack on the people inside the car. The mob took away the national flag from the car, tore away the preamble of the constitution and other banners related to opposition of CAA, NRC and NPR. The hoologans accused the people who were taking out "Samvidhan Bachao-Desh Bachao Jan Chetana Yatra" were accused of being Pakistanis, anti-nationals and muslims. The attack was made in broad day light.

Every election is followed by remarks like Indian voter has become mature. But the truth is that the elections in India are turning into events managed by professionals, PR agencies, contractors of the corporate and those political parties which wish to be in power somehow. The worst of them are those who resort to communal polarization as an election strategy. There are organizations which train youth in weaponry and brainwash them to follow blindly the theory of superiority of some races and religions as compared to the others. This type of ideology has increased the cult of gun everywhere. No fundamentalist thought is congenial to democracy.

India is a sovereign socialist, secular democratic republic. There is no place of the cult of gun in the country. Those who raise the slogans like "Desh Ke Gaddaron ko 'Goli Maro S... ko" need to be discouraged and defeated in their own constituencies. There is no place for such thoughts in Indian democracy.

It is good that the country has risen and taken up the constitution with greater enthusiasm than ever before. In the last three months the preamble of the constitution has become a symbol of protest everywhere in the country. It is a flag against fascism. People across parties and those who do not subscribe to any political party have taken oath in the name of constitution. This book alone will be the weapon to fight the cult of gun.
