Former Director of N.S.D.,

Dr. Arjundevcharan, also noted the distinction of art, etc. by keeping Rajasthani folk arts critical aspect.

During the corona period, tulsigiloy, and plant of amla should be in our courtyard. The mass art of cereals and traditional remedies has saved tribal society; such views were put by chief Conservator of forests R.K. Singh and wild lover Dr. Satish Sharma. They emphasized the cultivation of vegetation. C.W.C. member and former MP Raghuvver Singh Meena said that tribals have a sense of cooperation from the very beginning. They are brave and try to save their culture. The Vice-Chancellor Prof. N.S. Rathore said that there is precious natural mineral wealth in Rajasthan. We have a stock of ceramic, phosphate, zinc, silver, etc. This will strengthen the economy. He also kept the technical aspects of the engineer as well as the students of I.I.T.s.

Former Doordarshan director Nand Bhardwaj threw light on Rajasthani prose literature. Along with this, he also threw light on the method and creation of Rani Laxmi Kumari Chundawat. At the time of language translation, the originality and locality of the writer have to be preserved. The beauty of the vocabulary and the address is basically saved; everyone has said this.

Program Director Jalawassaid that this was the second year of excitement in which arts like a puppet, gavri, Chakri, etc. were performed, and Aditi Mehta. She was former secretary, Lakhnau Gusa, Jai Prakash Sethia from the U.S.A., V.C. of M.L.S.U. Mr. Amarika Singh partnered on their diverse sides.

Govt. M.L.A. Jogeshwar Garg presented his thoughts on Mayad language in primary education that we have to introduce uniformity for children from any point. He emphasized teaching in mother tongue, keeping in mind the finer aspects of National education policy 2020.

Mr. Atul Kanak also expressed his views on the Mayad language in competitive exams. Kiran Soni Gupta put various aspects of art; she said that art freezes the particular era, but its roots and principles are the same. Every region of Rajasthan is powerful, whether it is in any form. That's why outsiders are always ready to come in Rajasthan.

ADADAL has made a successful attempt to make them all come true, we should not realize our strength ourselves. - Dr. Munesh Arora
