Killing Covid V/S Combating Society

These days I am not finding a single family who has not suffered any loss caused by Covid-19. Negative news from all corners has shattered me. Newspapers explain pictures in more detail. Most of them carry features by eminent scholars and visionary personalities alarming and guiding readers. The photos of demised people exhibited also dishearten. But that is the reality we are all facing. The plight is pathetic. This time asks me and measures my capacity to console the families of my friends and dear ones.

Some Social Media put Negative videos and photos cursing present situation. Their video, image, or messages narrate sad and scary stories caused by Covid-19. Most people glance at such horrifying videos and forward them to others, considering them as social service. Some of them boast too. But such communications make us more terrified, confused, and helpless. Most of us are followers, and those too blind followers. Very few are rational thinkers who know that such practice would make many mentally sick and panic rather than heal them. Many things are not in our hands. This war is extraordinary that we suspect danger from people we deal with.

Sustain in such a situation is a big challenge. But we must understand our age-old sayings; Himmat-e- Marda Madad-e- Khuda; Time is a great Healer; Sir Salamat to Pagadi Pachas; Ummeed Pe Tiki Hai Duniya; Dhaai Aakhar Prem Ka Padhe So Pandit Hoy and so on.

God has given us many Hidden strengths. Everyone has the potential to lead a life in all problematic situations. There are many instances we can study from History. The question right now is not making few persons as Heroes, but all of us Heroes.

God has given us wisdom and inner power, which has been explored only by a few. Those who have understood their eternal power have started changing the black picture to white. They have unconditional love for others. They started Voluntary Social services by providing Medical, Financial, Social help and, most importantly, boosting positive thinking among disheartened people. Salute to their selfless services.

Many friends and relatives are sharing various indigenous traditional or innovative methods to combat Covid-19. Some suggest the use of Onions, some Salt, some Pranayams, some exercises, and so on. Most interestingly, some Gyan Chand and Rai Chand (over-enthusiastic people) are forwarding free medical prescriptions also. Honoring their sentiments, it would always be better to discuss family Doctors or physicians' lists along with their mobile numbers.

The artiste's clan has started creating healthy and inspirational songs. Theatre persons and Sociologists have come out with success and inspirational stories, healthy senses of humor, and fulfilled statements to make us relaxed, motivated, and fine-tuned.

My friend Krishna Kate says;

'Zindagi Ek Safar Hai Aur Safar Ek Adjustment Hai.' If we cannot change the situation, then we should change ourselves. Observing Covid-19 protocol makes us sensitive to safeguard our precious lives. Our past mistakes should not make our life miserable. But while maintaining precautions, we must not let our morale down. The time tests our Shock absorbers. This recalls the dialogue of Sholey—'Jo Dar Gaya Samjho Mar Gaya'. We have to live a quality life. Those who are with families must make maintain peace and unconditional love in the families. Talking to distant relatives and friends on the phone becomes more personal and concerned than sending messages. The motivation would go a long way in a normalizing situation very fast.

Lastly... I do not hesitate to be called Mungeri Lal, who sees Haseen Sapane (Sweet Dreams). I see a strange dream... I see that all the citizens of India, irrespective of their profession, geographical location, political background, social status, caste, creed, religion, and gender, etc. have started Working with Honesty, empathy, and commitment to serve others (As all the Saints and Prophets have said many times in their discourses). Aha...What a wonderful scenario...Within a month, people have forgotten their sorrows and anger, overcome their Negative mentality, and are creating an excellent example of coexistence with human beings and mother Nature....

I do not hesitate to share this dream and make myself prepared to behave what I dreamed. I wish many of our readers join me ... I like this song; 'Kisi ki Muskurahat pe ho Nisar. Kisi Ka Dard Mil Sake To Le Udhar, Kisi Ke Vaste Ho Tere Dil Men Pyar, Jeena Iska Naam Hai'. Do you also love it? - vilas janve

Ulcerative colitis surgery is now possible in Geetanjali Hospital

Udaipur: Successful surgery for ulcerative colitis disease of 18-year-old patient of Pratapgargh was done by Gastroenterology team of Geetanjali Medical College and Hospital, Udaipur. This surgery is usually available only in a few centers in metro cities. In this highly complex successful treatment team, G.I. Surgeon Dr. Kamal Kishore Vishnoi, Gastroenterologist Dr. Pankaj Gupta, Dr. Dhawal Vyas Dr. Manish Dodmani, Dr. Sanjay Palwal and Team from Surgical ICU, Dr. Charu Sharma from Anesthesia, Endoscopy Incharge Sanjay Somra, OT Incharge Hemant Garg, Ward Incharge Manju, etc. contributed to successfully carried out the operation.

What was the issue?

In the last 3 months, the patient said there was bleeding during the bowel movement, due to which he had to suffer from stomach ache, weakness, lack of blood in the body, etc., he showed in a private hospital in Mandsaur. The condition did not improve, then the patient was admitted to Geetanjali Hospital, Udaipur.

Dr. Kamal said that this patient had a rare, large intestinal disease with ulcerative colitis. This disease mainly occurs in the large intestine but can also occur in other parts of the body. Symptoms of this disease mainly include diarrhea, bleeding in the stool. The disease can be controlled with medicines, but it can be eradicated from the root by surgery. In this condition, the patient underwent total proctocolectomy and ileal pouch-anal anastomosis. It is a complex surgery in which the large intestine is cut before the anus, and the small intestine is shaped differently to form a new anus.

This surgery was completed in two phases.

1. In the first stage, the large intestine was cut over the anus, and the last part of the small intestine was made into a pouch and added near the anus.
2. In the second phase, the patient was put on ileostomy for one month after surgery so that the J pouch can be healed quickly. (In an ileostomy, a stoma has been made in the lower right side of the abdomen by making an incision in the stomach of the patient so that the waste can be collected) This stoma will be removed after one month so that the patient will discharge feces like ordinary people.

In this way, the patient successfully underwent surgery and was discharged after one week. Today the patient and his family are thrilled. Geetanjali Hospital CEO Prateem Tamboli said that all the advanced techniques related to gastroenterology at Geetanjali Hospital are available in the endoscopy unit. Geetanjali Hospital has continuously provided excellent and world-class medical facilities of all kinds and health services to the needy.

Interview with Social Activist Medha Patkar

Growing Unity between Farmers and the Laborers is a Ray of Hope : Medha Patkar

Udaipur: In order to strengthen the farmer's protest movement and to carry its message across the country "Mitti Satyagraha Yatra" was taken out by the activists of the country in the month of March and April, 2021. One group started from Badwani in Madhya Pradesh and the other from Dandi in Gujarat where Mahatma Gandhi had broken the Salt Law imposed by the British imperialist government on India. The march from Badwani was led by Ms. Medha Patkar, leader of Narmada Bachao Andolan and the one from Dandi was led by socialist leader and President of Kisan Sangharsh Samiti former MLA Dr. Sunilam. The march travelled across twenty three states and collected soil from sacred land of sacrifice for the freedom movement of India and other peasant protest movements. In Udaipur the local unit of People's Union for Civil Liberties, CPI, CPIM, CPI(M), Janatantrik Vichar manch and a number of social and democratic organizations organized a meeting at Comrade Mahesh Sharma's Cottage which was addressed by Dr. Sunilam, Comrade Shanker Lal Chaudhary of Samyukt Kisan Morcha, Ms. Guddi. Ms. Usha and members of the Yatra Team. Ms. Medha Patkar was also on the dais but she was not feeling well due to heat and fatigue of a long journey. She had to be given medical help and was taken to Astha Training Centre, Bedla where she took rest for the night and left for the completion of Yatra next morning. The soil of all the states was taken to Delhi and a memorial was formed in the memory of Peasants who laid down their lives for the farmer's movement. Before embarking on her journey from Udaipur she spoke to Dr. H.S. Chandalia on some issues related to the farmer's movement. Here are some of the excerpts:

Q. What is the objective of "Mitti Satyagraha Yatra"?

Medha Patkar: The objective of this Yatra is symbolic. It is meant to convey the message of the farmer's protest movement to every nook and corner of the country. This is to carry the message that now it is no more a movement of the farmers alone, it has become a mass movement. Just as Gandhi ji started satyagraha to oppose the unjust laws imposed by the British, this yatra is taken out to let people understand the dangers of the three draconian laws of the central government.

Q. Is the farmer's movement losing its strength?

Medha Patkar: No, not at all. On the contrary it is expanding in those states also where it was not there earlier. Punjab, Haryana, Uttar Pradesh, Madhya Pradesh and Rajasthan were already there but now farmers from Karnataka, Kerala, Tamilnadu, West Bengal etc. are also joining hands with the agitating farmers.

Q. Are farmers isolated? Why common man is not able to identify himself with the protest movements?

Medha Patkar: Farmer's movement is well organized and strong. More than five hundred organizations have risen up in support of farmer's movement. The best thing that has happened now is that the trade Union Movement of this country has now come in support of the farmer's movement. The Sanyukt Kisan Morcha leaders are having talks with the Trade Union leaders. First time this has happened and it is the first time that a unity is getting forged among the working class of this country. This is a ray of hope. Truly speaking, now the struggle is not against the Union or the state governments, it is against the capitalist and corporate class of this country which is running the country from behind the screen.

Q. What shall be the strategy of the Farmers movement?

Medha Patkar: The strategy is very clear- No going home till the Three Laws are withdrawn. Farmers will continue to protest at the borders of Delhi. The struggle will continue till the three farm laws are withdrawn. Now it is a struggle to save the constitution, to save democracy and to save the nation. Where elections are going on the Kisan Morcha leaders are going and appealing the people to vote against BJP. If we have to save the country, we need to overthrow this government.

Q. How will the challenge posed by the nexus of the state funded by the capitalists and the media supported by them will be met?

Medha Patkar: It is true that the real struggle is against them only. We have to fight against the loot of nation's resources by the corporate. Those corporate who help political parties in elections succeed in getting policies framed in their favour and their own media houses keep on harping the propaganda of the policies of the state. In order to face this challenge a strong network of people's organizations and an alternative media is the need of the hour. Farmer's movement has successfully done this. Despite the incessant propaganda to demonise the farmers by calling them Khalistanis, Maoists, Naxalites, anti national and what not, the state could not defame the movement. The Red Fort incident was planted by the ruling party in the union government in Delhi. We will have to build up our own media, use social media platforms, build social democratic organizations and face this challenge. For the present I have to join the Yatra, reach Delhi and build the Farmer's Memorial. But I am confident that we shall struggle, and the people of this country shall win.

-Dr. H.S. Chandalia

BHARTI BACKED ONEWEB SECURES $550 MILLION IN NEW FUNDING: EUTELSAT TO TAKE SIGNIFICANT EQUITY STAKE IN THE COMPANY

Udaipur: OneWeb, the global communications network powered from space, announces today that it has secured $550 million in funding from Eutelsat Communications (Euronext Paris: ETL), bringing OneWeb's total funding to $1.9 billion in fresh equity. This investment from one of the world's most experienced and largest global operators is a vote of confidence in OneWeb and underscores the arrival of Low Earth Orbit (LEO) satellites into mainstream long-term growth planning for major operators. Eutelsat, one of the world's leading satellite operators, will receive a c.24% equity stake in OneWeb and similar governance rights to the U.K. Government and Bharti Global, making it a significant equity partner and joining leading investors including the U.K. Government, Bharti Global and SoftBank. The investment is expected to be completed in the second half of 2021, subject to regulatory approvals.

OneWeb's 648 LEO satellite fleet will deliver high-speed, low-latency global connectivity and its partnership with Eutelsat, a global geostationary satellite operator, will enhance both companies' commercial potential, leveraging Eutelsat's established commercial reach to governments and enterprise customers in addition to its strong institutional relationships, recognised technical expertise and global fleet. OneWeb's ability to address multiple applications requiring low latency and ubiquity will also allow both companies to explore GEO/LEO configurations for future service integrations and packages. After OneWeb completes the full deployment of the constellation, the company anticipates annual revenues of approximately $1 billion in year three or soon thereafter, thanks to its partnership driven, wholesale business plan.
