

Kanwar Yatra

Religious gatherings and election rallies were the major super spreaders of Covid-19 infections earlier this year. The Kumbh Mela, held in April, witnessed the congregation of lakhs of devotees, the majority of whom did not bother about masking and social distancing norms. India's daily caseload, which was around 80,000 on April 1, shot up to nearly 4 lakh by the month-end. Considering the Kumbh experience, the suspension or cancellation of the upcoming Kanwar Yatra should have been a no-brainer. During the fortnight-long yatra, tens of thousands of pilgrims from states such as UP, Haryana, Punjab, Delhi and Himachal Pradesh converge on Hardwar in Uttarakhand to collect water from the Ganga. On the way, they make several stopovers at temples or makeshift camps. There is a possibility of contracting or transmitting the infection. With the nation's daily caseload now hovering around 40,000, the threat of the third wave continues to loom large. Under the circumstances, the decision to call off the yatra is welcome.

Uttarakhand Chief Minister, Pushkar Singh Dhami, has claimed that saving lives is the state government's topmost priority, even as he had been treading cautiously in view of the yatra's religious significance and economic considerations. Dhami had stated that a final decision on the pilgrimage would be taken in consultation with neighbouring states. However, various stakeholders didn't appear to be on the same page, with Uttar Pradesh CM Yogi Adityanath directing officials to ensure strict compliance of the Covid protocol during the yatra in coordination with their counterparts in other states. This was an unmanageable task as hordes of pilgrims would have been on the road day and night.

The shooting took place in historic Dwarka and it will be memorable. I expect that the people will like this song".

Chandni has signed a contract to sing for a Hindi feature film "Living Relation" being produced under the banner of the "High Speed Cine International". The recording of the song could not take place due to the COVID-19 pandemic. However the recording will take place in Mumbai soon.

Vedanta celebrates the spirit of social transformation through video campaign #ForABetterKal

New Delhi : Vedanta is rolling out a social transformation campaign through its flagship project, Nand Ghar, focused on key areas of Health, Education, Nutrition, Women Empowerment & Hygiene. The campaign titled #ForABetterKalapty showcases the essence of Nand Ghar, aiming to bridge the gap between urban and rural India. As part of the campaign, the company will be unveiling five videospaying tribute to frontline workers of NandGhar who are working tirelessly towards upliftment of communities. The NandGhar project - run under the aegis of the Anil Agarwal Foundation - is transforming the Anganwadi ecosystem in collaboration with the Union Ministry of Women & Child Development.

The campaign, conceptualized and created by McCann World Group, throws light on services such as education and new e-learning modules introduced across villages to ensure continuity of early childhood education even during the lockdown.

These modules that were previously only seen in urban cities are now being implemented successfully in villages through the ardent efforts of the Nand Ghar team. Another video showcases the advanced healthcare facilities provided to the communities. Medical services that were a distant dream for these villages are now seeing the light of day due to the Nand Ghar project.

The company will also be launching these videos as TVCs across multiple national television channels as well as social media platforms. They will be aired on leading channels supported by digital, outdoor and retail activation plan.

Speaking on the initiative Ms. Priya Agarwal Hebbar, Director, Vedanta Resources said, "All women and children deserve equal opportunities. Vedanta NandGhars are working towards providing the best nutrition, healthcare, education and skilling for children and women in rural India to help them grow and become self-sufficient.

These videos are a testimony to the undying spirit of our frontline workers of NandGhar who are fulfilling these dreams through their unwavering determination."

Speaking on the idea behind the video campaign, Prasoon Joshi, CEO & CCO McCann Worldgroup, India said, "A brand carries in itself rivulets of narratives that gradually engage and build a unique relationship. DeshkiZarooratone keLiye has already struck a chord with the audience. With the launch of the second phase of this campaign, a new dimension to this relationship will be added."

With more than 2,300 NandGhars across 11 States, the campaign is key to bringing out stories to the world and aid transformation in rural women & children. NandGhar aims to transform the lives of 7 crore children and 2 crore women at the grassroots level.

The Nand Ghar project offers an integrated bouquet of services to beneficiaries such as e-learning for children, primary healthcare services, economic empowerment of women, strengthening of local government systems, and state-of-the-art infrastructure. Women and children are most important to support and Nand Ghar has grown into a hub that the community depends on for their needs. It has also been leading the fight against COVID-19 and spreading awareness among community members.

The Nand Ghar centres have been repurposed to act as Vaccination and Quarantine centres during the pandemic.

Schizophrenia is curable 100% without medication By Dr. Kailash Mantry Udaipur. According to the World Health Organization, 20 million people had Schizophrenia in 2019 and it is taking more and more people under its influence with every sunrise.

Schizophrenia is a chronic mental disorder. It is associated with distorted behavior, emotion, language, perception, thought, etc. Victims of this mental disorder always stay in a virtual reality that is miles away from real life. It also affects the personal life of the victim and sometimes the family and friends are unable to control the victim. While people tend to think that schizophrenia is a multiple personality disorder, it is nothing but a loss of thought from reality. It is generally linked with the surrounding environment. It affects individuals of every age. The symptoms start in teens. They stay in a nascent stage and become prominent with age. The sudden change of behavior or mood and lack of sleep could be the early symptoms of this complex mental disorder. As treatment becomes difficult when increasing severity, the mental disorder must be treated as early as possible. The doctors believe that treatment of schizophrenia is impossible without administering medicine. But, Dr. Kailash Mantry has proved it otherwise. He has been helping people to tame the schizophrenia demon, without medicine, for the last 25 years. Dr. Kailash Mantry is a life coach, based in Mumbai. He believes in the philosophical saying that the solution to every puzzle lies in the puzzle itself. Based on this he has formulated a revolutionary approach to treat schizophrenia without medicine. He also treats

ADHD, anxiety, autism, bipolar disorder, depression, insomnia, stammering, OCD, mental illness, etc, without medicine, employing his revolutionary treatment protocol. Antipsychotic drugs cause many unpleasant side effects like mental fog and cognitive impairment. Attitudes Schizophrenia is changing.

Gujarat's heaviest child – 13 years of age and weighing 160 kg, Operated Successfully by Dr. Apurva Vyas – Bariatric Surgeon Udaipur: Sagar's grandfather Kalubha told that Sagar is my grand son. He is 13 years old. When Sagar was born, his body was thin, but then his body continued to grow. Now his appetite also increased. Now we can't give her body enough. This Sagar eats 7 to 8 rotis daily.

Baby Sumo to lose weight now: Gujarat's heaviest child – 13 years of age and weighing 160 kg Sagar, after read news in media, Bariatric surgeons from Ahmedabad came to help, his team performed free surgery on the baby.

- 13 year old Sagar has more blood pressure in addition to being overweight
- Now under the guidance of Dr. Apurva Vyas will follow a 3 month diet chart and lose weight
- Gastric bypass surgery will reduce the baby's overweight by 100 kg in the next one year

For the baby sumo of Amreli, which is troubled by being overweight with 160 kg, the circumstances have now arisen that the new morning will be light. Sagar of Dharitaluka's Khichha village in Amreli district also had difficulty in walking due to excessive weight. Got information from media about his problem, after getting the details, media presented his grief in the form of news. After reading this report, Dr. Apurva Vyas, an Obesity & Robotic Bariatric surgeon from Ahmedabad, and his team performed a bariatric surgery on Baby Sumo of this poor family to help him recover.

Weight loss will be about 100 kg in a year Obesity-surgeon Dr. Apurva Vyas, who performed gastric bypass bariatric surgery on the weight of baby sumo, said, "We have heard about the 140 kg weight of a child from Khichha village in Amreli and his difficulty." Seeing this, Mr. Milin of my team got the number and family details and contacted the family of this child. The child was called to Ahmedabad and underwent surgery at no cost. In fact, a baby weighing 160 kg also has high blood pressure at an early age, which makes it more difficult for him. In such circumstances, we have now performed a successful operation and the hospital staff will be in constant touch with the child regarding his diet as per the three month diet chart. Gastric bypass surgery will reduce the overweight of this child by 100 kg in the next one year.

We got such invaluable help: Sagar's family

Sagar's family said that for us, the doctor who performed this surgery is like God. We didn't even have the money. Now the child's health will improve, so we also thank media person for presenting our question and we have received such invaluable help.

HOMAGE TO DILIP KUMAR SAAB

We have woken this morning to the most grief-stricken news that our beloved Dilip Saab is no more.

Wish he was alive for few more years to achieve the much deserved centenary mark, but Gods will was otherwise. His body may have left us but his body of work will remain immortal. An institution by himself he enthralled the audiences, world over, through many generations.

Though he was symbolized as a tragedy king in real life, in reality he was an epitome of humanity who only wished happiness to everyone. Vacuum created now is hard to be refilled. A legendary actor par excellence, his professional and personal philanthropic contributions to the fraternity is beyond any quantum of measurements.

Recipient of many awards including the 1st Filmfare & the prestigious Dadasaheb Phalke. We are sure his cherished award would have been the immense love & affection he received from millions. A well-crafted journey spanning many decades, he truly loved his craft of being an ACTOR FIRST. For us at CINTAA & CAWT, the sadness is indomitable even to express through our words. His contribution to our association & Trust was extremely noteworthy and his voice, wisdom & opinions truly mattered to us. His unparalleled virtue was that he always embraced the spirit of brotherhood. A teacher and a true master. As we now pray for his soul to rest in eternal peace, we express our heartfelt condolences to his family and Saira ji in particular.

We aren't saying adieu because Dilip Saab will stay in our hearts forever.
