Now One Can Get International Certificate, Diploma and Fellowship in Clinical Cosmetology While Living in India

Dr. Arvinder Singh's Clinical Cosmetic Training Institute (IAMCL) got recognition from America and London

The Institute of Aesthetic Medicine, Cosmetology and Laser, established by Dr. Arvinder Singh, CEO, Earth Group, has gained international recognition. This accreditation has been given keeping in mind the international standards and employability standards of the institute. Students passed from this institute will get recognition and job in the cosmetic and Clinical Cosmetology sector at national and international level. Dr Singh said that this is the first cosmetic training center in northern India to get international recognition. In this, various courses for all types of doctors, paramedical and non-medical will be launched. These courses will be useful for all the standards i.e. courses will be there for minimum qualification of 10th class who are looking forward to work as medical LASER and Cosmetology technicians. For Medical students separate courses for Diploma and Fellowships in Clinical Cosmetology, Facial Aesthetics, FaceInjectables etc. will be available.

Dr Arvinder shared that in the coming time there will be immense potential in aesthetics and clinical cosmetology, so this is the right time to get training and skills. This institute has been established so that there is no cost to travel abroad and spending high in foreign currency. The institute will provide education and training as per international standards and Certificates and mark sheets of International Education Board will be available at affordable cost while staying in India. These courses will be available through virtual and classroom training in three languages viz English, Hindi and Punjabi.

Rani Chatterjee to be seen in a double role in Ganga and Geeta, the shooting of the film begins

Bhojpuri queen Rani Chatterjee's performance does not require any identity. Only then is her fame seen a lot in the Bhojpuri industry, she is in the news because now Rani is going to be seen in a double role in her new film 'Ganga Geeta'. This film is being made in a particular way. Ganga and Geeta will be two crucial characters in the movie, in which two different shades of Rani Chatterjee will be seen. Many preparations have been made for this, and the film's shooting has started in Pratapgarh, Uttar Pradesh. The film is directed by Dilip Gulati and produced by Komal Gulati. The story of the film 'Ganga Geeta' is significant. Everyone is going to like my character in this. It is different and new from all the double roles I have done so far. In this, a better harmony of action, emotion, love, music, and dialogue will be seen. This is to say of Rani Chatterjee, who looked very excited about her character on the film sets. He said that our team is very talented. It is great fun working with them. The shooting of the film is being done on a large scale.
