If the tongue is sweet and the mind is calm, life becomes an ocean of happiness - Santoshsagar Maharaj

Bhilwara: The most powerful method in the world is to speak sweetly. One who speaks sweetly and is reticent can achieve success in the world. Due to the fear of diabetes, people have given up eating sweets and have stopped saying sweet words. We talk less but speak sweet and sound; sugar is not dangerous.

Set up a factory of ice in your mind and sugar on your tongue, and you will live happily ever after. The language should always be sweet, and the mind relaxed. All the work gets spoiled when the mind is hot, and the tongue is bitter. These views were expressed by National Youth Sant Santoshsagar Maharaj, the pioneer of Sanatan Dharma Yatra, on the rest day of the seven-day Shrimad Bhagwat Katha Mahotsav under the auspices of Sanatan Dharma Bhagwat Katha Samiti at Jaat Bhawan, Shastri Nagar, Bhilwara

One who has this attracts others with his mind. God destroys the disorder of his mind when a creature comes to him. The three knots of the mind are lust, anger, and greed; when untied, the mind becomes beautiful. The rule of the world is that you will get what you sow, so you should always do good deeds. God has permanently established religion by destroying unrighteousness. Appreciating the holy spirit of the people of Bhilwara and the dedication of the Katha Organizing Committee, he said that it is difficult to find such an atmosphere filled with love anywhere else.
