BJP-RSS Equation Reaffirmed

Prime Minister Narendra Modi's recent visit to the Rashtriya Swayamsevak Sangh (RSS) headquarters has sent a strong message of unity between the ruling Bharatiya Janata Party (BJP) and its ideological mentor.

The visit comes in the wake of an uneasy phase between the two entities. RSS chief Mohan Bhagwat's sharp critique following the BJP's electoral setback had raised concerns about the growing chasm.

Modi's visit and his emphatic endorsement of the RSS make it abundantly clear that the Sangh Parivar will play an even more decisive role in shaping the BJP's trajectory.

This rekindled alliance underscores a political reality—while the BJP may be the face of power, the RSS remains its ideological backbone.
